2,000 JAPANESE MARINES MARCH INTO SHANGHAI

ACTION TAKEN AFTER MARINE IS SHOT DOWN

"Showdown" Expected In Sino-Japanese Relations

Shanghai, Nov. 10.—(Sunday)—(AP)—Nearly 2,000 Japanese marines marched into a demilitarized section of Shanghai today after the assassination of one of their comrades and a "showdown" in critical Sino-Japanese relations appeared at hand.

Bayonets fixed, a battalion was mobilized from three Japanese warships in the harbor and hurriedly sent into the native quarter where the slaying took place.

They appeared prepared to enforce the threat by the Japanese embassy of drastic action unless satisfaction is quickly forthcoming. Chinese, recalling the hostilities of 1932 when Shanghai was attacked, were panic-stricken.

Political motives were assigned by the Japanese embassy for the slaying of the marine, Hideo Nakayama, 23. He was shot in the neck and fatally wounded, allegedly by a Chinese. The scene was in the Kongkew district, outside the foreign settlement.

Embassy officials immediately called upon Chinese authorities to make demands.

Asserting there had been a huge concentration of Chinese troops in this vicinity, the embassy officials said they suspected the slayer was a member of the Chinese army in plain clothes.

The seriousness of the incident was aggravated by the fact it follows closely upon an attempt Nov. 1 to assassinate Premier Wang Ching-Wei of China. The attempt, made at Nanking, was attributed to anti-Japanese plotters.

Half a dozen suspects have already been arrested and comrades of the slain marine searched houses for other. The pistol used for the shooting was found.

The embassy demanded the immediate arrest of the assassin and said otherwise it would be forced to take drastic action. It issued this statement:

"The affair is serious because it was an attack on a uniformed member of the Japanese navy. We hope the Chinese authorities will speedily arrest the assailant.

"In view of the rumors circulating in the last few days, it is hoped the Chinese authorities will make an effort to dispel the dark clouds seeming to hover over Sino-Japanese relations."

(Feeling has been tense because of Japanese activities in northern China and reports, denied by the Japanese, that they intended to make new demands upon the Nanking government).

Weather

For Jacksonville and vicinity—Showers are predicted for this territory today, to be followed by cloudy weather on Monday, with possibly some rain or snow. It will be much colder tonight and on Monday.

For the upper Mississippi and lower Missouri valleys and the northern and central great plains—Temperatures below normal much of week, especially north portions; probably one or two precipitation periods.

Chicago Butcher is Wounded But He Kills Bandit

Chicago, Nov. 9 —(AP)— When two men entered a meat market in suburban Berwyn today and drew revolvers, Joseph Moravec, 50, the owner, grappled with one of them.

Moravec was shot in the abdomen and the unidentified robber was fatally wounded by two bullets from his own revolver.

Edward Rezab, 35, a visitor at the Moravec home, was wounded in the right thumb by one of the bullets.

The robber's companion escaped. Police said a card found in the dead robber's pockets indicated he lived in Aurora.

POWERFUL U. S. SKY FLEET IS ROARING WEST

Forty-one Big Naval Planes Leave Pearl Harbor

Honolulu, Nov. 9.—(AP)—A powerful United States sky fleet roared westward today over the Pacific to acquaint itself with widely separated and almost forgotten islands that some day may figure in American defense.

Forty-one naval planes soared from Pearl Harbor here this morning to start ten-day operations. The immediate objective was French frigate shoals, 550 miles west. They were expected to reach there in about 6 hours of flying.

The mass flight was made up of two divisions—First the 90 miles-an-hour planes, and then the 115 M. P. H. ships. The fast planes were timed to overtake the slower craft en route—and finish the flight in one formation.

Captain Kennett Whiting, commander of the Pearl Harbor naval air base, who flew in one of the fast ships, said the armada might not visit Midway Islands this time but probably would continue on to other dots of land nearer French Frigate Shoals.

Beyond their immediate destination lay other tiny specks of land which the navy eventually may utilize in its defense system. They will be visited later by still more powerful long range planes being built for the navy.

This far-flung island system includes Unalaska, largest of the Aleutian chain, 2,000 miles north of Midway; the Midway group, and Wake and Guam Islands.

The latter three groups have been made into bases for the commercial air line about to start operation between California and China.

Last spring more than 40 naval planes flew secretly out of Pearl Harbor for a mass flight to the Midway Islands. This was in connection with the carefully guarded naval maneuvers that took the American fleet through more than 5,000,000 square miles of the Pacific.

SHOWER HONORS IRENE MEGGINSON

Miss Louise McCurley entertained recently at a glass shower in honor of Miss Irene Megginson who will be married in the near future. The evening was spent in playing bunco and prizes were awarded to Mildred Hembrough, high and Nedra Taylor, low.

RELIEF DRIVE LAGGING FAR BEHIND GOAL

Must Provide Jobs For 1,762,390 by December 1

Washington, Nov. 9.—(AP)—With the administration still short of the halfway mark in its drive to provide 3,500,000 jobs, figures made public today showed it must double its recently accelerated work relief pace to meet the December 1 goal.

Harry L. Hopkins works progress administrator, said the number put to work in the week ending November 2 totaled 194,425, compared with 121,715 in the preceding week.

The total given jobs in place of direct relief Nov. 2, however, was only 1,737,610, in contrast with the original plan to have the entire 3,500,000 employables at work a day earlier.

If the new December 1 goal is attained, 1,762,390 jobs remained to be provided in the four weeks beginning Nov. 2, a weekly average of 440,597.

Hopkins nevertheless expressed renewed confidence that the program would succeed. Simultaneously he cut four additional states—Ohio, South Carolina, Mississippi and Connecticut—off direct relief.

What this actually meant, however, became uncertain when he declined to say how much he had simultaneously allotted these states to supplement earlier November grants. Ohio already had received $2,084,000, South Carolina, $349,688, Mississippi, $442,500, Connecticut, $401,500.

Most of the 13 other states similarly cut off direct relief received supplementary allotments. Hopkins said only that "the allotments have ended for the 17 states because works program employment is either well enough along or will be soon to take care of employables transferred from the relief rolls, and also, the needs of unemployables are provided for by states and their localities."

Hopkins' employment report indicated that WPA may have to supply about 2,750,000 jobs if the December 1 objective is reached.

Other federal agencies were taking care of 174,685, an increase of only 2,656 in the week ending November 2, while the civilians conservation corps showed a 26,697 decline to 556,717.

The WPA, providing employment for the first time in Iowa and Maine, boosted its total in the week by 219,666 jobs to 1,007,208.

Comptroller General J. R. McCarl meanwhile gave WPA another boost by approving an additional $167,010,853 worth of projects. This raised the total of approved projects, available for selection for WPA state administrators to $3,097,347,250. Release of $4,681,349 in WPA allotments made $1,023,785,632 available for expenditure.

Roodhouse Club Holds Meeting

DeMOLAYS TO HAVE OBLIGATORY DAY

The DeMolays next meeting will be an obligatory day, "Parents Day." The chapter will observe this day by inviting parents and friends to a banquet to be held at the Congregational church Tuesday, November 12. The banquet will be served at 6:30 p. m. and a very interesting program will follow. This is on the regular stated meeting night so it is possible for all DeMolays and their parents to be present.

Reservations may be made to Robert Owens, Bill Swaby, Thomas Eades, Raymond Triebert, or Dad Hollowell. These reservations must be in by Nov. 11.

Corn-Hog Producers Vote Unanimously to Increase Hog Production Next Year

By Jerry Greene
Associated Press Staff Writer

Washington, Nov. 9—(AP)—Corn-hog producers' representatives today voted unanimous approval of AAA plans for a 30 per cent increase in hog production next year, and, simultaneously, recommended substantial changes in methods of adjustment control in 1936.

Officials indicated the 1936-37 adjustment contracts, to be offered farmers early in December, would follow closely the producers' recommendations.

The major changes suggested were:

1. Payments of benefits in a modified subsidy form on an actual production basis.

2. Establishment of corn and hog bases by an appraisal of farms by local committees, partially replacing rigid "historical bases."

3. Requirement that land taken out of corn production be planted in soil improving and erosion preventing crops.

Most significant among the conferees' recommendations was said to be that for changing the method of benefit payments next year.

They suggested an "adjustment payment" of $2.50 for each hog produced up to 50 per cent of each contract signer's base. There would be no additional payment for production between 50 per cent and 100 per cent of the base, but a deduction of $10 per head would be made for each hog produced in excess of the 100 per cent base.

The producers' representatives who have been conferring through the week with AAA officials, recommended that corn adjustment payments remain at the 1935 level, 35 cents a bushel on the estimated yield of retired acres.

Conferees estimated that the 30 per cent increase in hog production in 1936 would result in an increase of from 7,000,000 to 9,000,000 head in federally inspected slaughter in 1936-37, over that anticipated for the present year which began October 1.

The Bureau of Agricultural Economics estimated that inspected slaughter for the year ended September 30, 1935, would total 30,600,000 head, and that the inspected slaughter during the seven months ended April 30, 1936, would be 16,000,000 to 17,000,000 head, compared with 21,843,000 slaughtered during the same period of 1934-35.

AAA officials said the production planned for 1936 would be about 20 per cent under the average annual production in 1932 and 1933.

Hog production this year was limited to 90 per cent of that in 1932 and 1933, but the AAA said not a single state was able to reach the maximum permitted.

Postcard Mailed 50 Years Ago is at Destination

Atlanta, Nov. 9.—(AP)—It took something over fifty years for a postcard mailed by a resident of a town less than a score of miles away to reach its destination—the post office inspector here.

The card was mailed February 21, 1882, on the Atlanta-Chattanooga train by W. M. Lanier of Marietta, Ga., to Captain George T. Fry, then postal inspector.

It got to Chief Postal Inspector J. W. Cole today.

The message said: "My Dear Sir, I failed to call for the report on manuscript promised me. If it is ready please mail to this place and oblige, W. M. Lanier."

Cole said he guessed the message must have been misplaced among old papers en route here and just discovered.

FEDERAL MEN SCORN OFFER OF GANGSTER

Would Plead Guilty to Secure Freedom of Woman

Washington, Nov. 9.—(AP)—A gangster's offer to serve time to secure the freedom of his woman companion was scorned today by the government.

The justice department rejected the offer of William Weaver, a kidnap suspect, to trade a "guilty" plea for the freedom of Myrtle Eaton.

Government lawyers said it was the first romantic gesture of the kind they'd met.

Weaver, indicted with the Barker-Karpis gang for the kidnapping of Edward G. Bremer, a St. Paul banker, was caught by federal agents in Florida this fall. The Eaton woman and a two-year-old boy who were living with him in a hideout were also taken by the agents.

Although Weaver's companion was already wanted for "conspiracy" in the Bremer case, the government charged her also with harboring the criminal.

Weaver, who is awaiting trial in St. Paul, offered to change his plea of "not guilty" to "guilty" if the government would free the Eaton woman.

District attorneys in Florida and in St. Paul both recommended that Weaver's offer be accepted, and justice department officers said, but crime experts who studied the case here rule against the gangland gesture.

They saw no romance in Weaver's offer to seal his own fate to free his companion. Weaver might have planned to benefit personally by the change of plea, they said. If Weaver is convicted after his "not guilty" plea, he may face a heavy penalty. Other members of the kidnap gang are serving life sentences.

A "guilty" plea on the other hand, might incline a court to leniency.

MISSIONARY GROUP OF ALSEY PLANS MEETING NOV. 14

Alsey, Nov. 9.—The Baptist Missionary Circle will meet Thursday, November 14th at the home of Mrs. Roy Curtis, with Mrs. Arlie Carriger serving as assistant hostess. The study hour will be presided over by by Mrs. Gus Ganges, leader for the month.

Mrs. Curry Is Taken By Death At Home In City

Funeral Services To Be Held Monday Afternoon At Funeral Home

Mrs. Cora B. Curry, widow of the late Rev. J. E. Curry, passed away at the home of her daughter, Mrs. R. M. Garman, 414 Goltra Ave., at 10:30 o'clock last night, following a brief illness.

Mrs. Curry was born in Champaign county, but has been a resident of Morgan county for more than forty years. She resided in the Pisgah and Waverly communities for several years.

She is survived by one daughter, Mrs. R. M. Garman, one brother, Sam J. Camm, and one son, Paul Curry, of Rantoul, Ill. Her husband and one son preceded her in death.

Mrs. Curry was a member of the Baptist church in Waverly.

The remains were removed to the Williamson Funeral Home, where services will be held Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Burial will be in Union Baptist church cemetery at Pisgah.

Japanese Oppose Silver Policy

Tokyo, Nov. 9.—(AP)—Japan's powerful war department, in sternly opposing China's new silver program, said today this country "cannot overlook an attempt by Great Britain to reduce China to a semi-colonial status."

The reference was to reports that a British loan of 10,000,000 Pounds Sterling (about $50,000,000) is impending.

A spokesman for the foreign office also opposed Nanking's plan for nationalization of silver.

"The Japanese government deeply regrets that China has suddenly announced a currency reform which should have been formulated only after consultation with Japan, obtaining Japan's cooperation in view of Sino-Japanese relations," he said.

The statement by the publicity bureau of the Japanese war department said Japan "cannot overlook the social and political confusion bound to come to north China—which at present has close relations with Japan and Mancoukuo—if Nanking attempts to enforce nationalization there."

THOUSANDS PAY LAST RESPECTS TO EVANGELIST

Give "Billy" Sunday Kind of Service He Wanted

Chicago, Nov. 9—(AP)—They gave the Rev. William A. (Billy) Sunday the kind of a funeral he wanted today—a rousing revival service.

They sang the "Glory Song" with a zest that belied the casket up there among the flowers, and they pleaded with "sinners" to come down front and be "saved."

"Don't put it off even until the end of this funeral service," exhorted the Rev. Dr. John Timothy Stone, president of the Presbyterian Theological Seminary, in calling for converts to "Mr. Sunday's Savior."

Four thousand faithful followers said "good bye to the boss" with a smile on their lips, but hardly an eye did not shine with tears.

It was the rollicking kind of service that "Billy" liked.

"No sad stuff when I go," the evangelist had said. "No black. No crepe. No tears. But have 'em sing the 'Glory Song.'"

And how they sang it!

They stood up, those 4,000 who filled the Moody Memorial church, and poured their hearts into tuneful praise of "The Glory" of "That Beautiful Shore."

Up front, arms swinging as they did in the old tabernacle days, Song Leader Homer Rodeheaver looked down on the casket lid and smiled.

A little sawdust on the floor, a few tin pans to take up a collection, and plenty of room for "Billy" to strip off his coat, vest, and tie before starting his famous windup to "strike out the devil"—and the old time revival would have been complete.

"Billy" would have been a little disappointed at the beginning of his funeral. It was sad. Women dabbed their eyes with handkerchiefs, and men wiped moist cheeks with the backs of their hands. The casket was closed after between 15,000 and 20,000 persons had passed by for a final tribute.

His old help-mates—Rodeheaver, Albert Peterson and Harry Clark—sang hymns he loved, prayers were said, eulogies were spoken by Dr. Stone and the Rev. Dr. H. A. Ironsides.

Then something happened. Clark came forward on the platform.

"Mr. Sunday didn't want this to be a sad meeting," he said. "He often told us: 'No sad stuff when I go. Have 'em sing the 'Glory Song.'"

The gathering rose to sing, and Rodeheaver smiled.

They buried him simply on a little green knoll in Forest Home cemetery, in the city that gave him baseball and pulpit fame and saw his life's sudden close last Wednesday night.

A few words were said, a few rose petals dropped on the casket, and "Ma" Sunday's two grown sons—William, Jr., and Paul—led her gently away from the grave at the end of the sawdust trail.

EMPEROR ORDERS FIRST ADVANCE BY ETHIOPIANS

Woman Fires on Prowler; Kills The Family Cow

Gulfport, Miss., Nov. 9.—(AP)—Mrs. Cary Allen heard a prowler in the yard of her home last night.

Mrs. Allen was away so, hoping to frighten the intruder, Mrs. Allen got a .45 calibre pistol and blazed away. The noise stopped.

This morning she went into the yard and found the prowler dead. It was the family cow.

BATTERED BODY OF BRIDE-TO-BE FOUND IN WOODS

Disappeared From Her Home on Eve of Her Wedding

Washington, Nov. 9—(AP)—The battered, garotted body of 26-year-old Corinna Loring, who vanished on the eve of her wedding day, was found today in a clump of pines and grass near Mt. Rainier, Md.

Police tonight worked on a theory that a jealous suitor might have slain her.

The young woman, who was to have been the bride of Richard Tear, 29, had been beaten over the head and strangled with a piece of heavy wrapping cord.

The body was found by Ed Fletcher, a night watchman, as he trained his rabbit dogs in the lonely Saddleback Ridge district. He saw two slippered feet in the grass. Walking ahead he discovered the bruised form. Aboun 50 feet away Fletcher found a pool of dried blood. This indicated the body had been dragged to a more secluded spot after the slaying.

The police investigators concluded the young woman was beaten into unconsciousness at the place where the blood was found, then dragged to cover.

There were two holes above the eyes. Whether they were bullet holes remained for the autopsy to determine. It was not immediately learned if she had been assaulted.

Miss Loring, a stenographer, disappeared from her Mt. Rainier home about 8 o'clock Monday night, shortly after she had completed preparations for her marriage. Tear, a former enlisted man in the Marine Corps, is employed in St. Elizabeth's hospital.

On what was to have been his wedding night, Tear gave photographs of Miss Loring to newspapers and asked them to help him find her. He said he had called at her home about a half hour after she had disappeared. When the girl's mother, Mrs. G. A. Loring, returned after a brief absence, Tear was still waiting.

When the young woman had not returned Thursday, Tear expressed belief she had met with violence.

MISSIONARY SOCIETY OF LYNNVILLE MEETS

The Missionary society of the Lynnville Christian church met recently at the church in Lynnville. Mrs. H. V. McNeely, the president, had charge of a lengthy business session after which Mrs. J. G. Heaton took the chair for the afternoon as leader. Her subject was "In Areas of Attitude and Actions."

The devotional subject was "Speaking the Common Good." Miss Sally McKinney gave a paper on our attitude toward mining groups and papers were read by Mrs. H. V. McNeely and Mrs. Earl Hempel.

A little playlet was given entitled "Building a Christian Social Order," by Mrs. Harold Campbell and Miss Mae Morris. A social hour followed and light refreshments were served by Miss Sally McKinney. Several guests were present.

WILL ATTEMPT TO CUT BEHIND ITALIAN ARMY

Thousands of Black Warriors Rushed to Front

Addis Ababa, Nov. 9.—The first important aggressive movement by Ethiopian troops since the Italian invasion began was reported tonight.

Ethiopian troops were stated to have attempted envelloping operations on the western end of the northern front, planning to invade Eritrea through the Walkait district in northern Ethiopia.

Emperor Haile Selassie, authoritative quarters said, has ordered Dedjazmatch Ayelu, Ethiopian commander in that area, to cut behind the Italian army which is now established at Makale and is pointed southward.

(A Reuters report from Addis Ababa said an airplane believed to be Italian, flying high, passed over the city at noon.)

As thousands of black warriors streamed into the section of southern Tigre province which is still held by the Ethiopians, authorities reported there was severe congestion, making it difficult to provide food, clothing and shelter for the troops.

In the area south of the northern front, the gathering of troops, it was feared, might endanger tactical retreats and other movements.

New long-range artillery and European rifles and cartridges were steadily being brought into Ethiopia.

The Emperor is expected to have more than half a million well-armed fighters ready to face the Fascist soldiers by Nov. 20.

Ras Seyoum and Ras Kassa, northern commanders, have informed the Negus they have plenty of soldiers but the movement of troops from the interior continued. Every man, they said, is a "born soldier," but they do need more guns and ammunition.

The Emperor has sent some 11,000 ferocious Danakil tribesmen into the southeastern section of Aussa province, believing that the Italian northern armies are headed for the Addis Ababa-Djibouti railway line in that sector.

The Danakils, said to have slain many Italian supply forces in night movement, were ordered to withstand invasion of the province at any cost.

Leslie Brown, secretary of the International Red Cross, told the King today he had been informed that contributions of $5,330 had been given in the United States for Red Cross work in Ethiopia.

It is reported Emperor Haile Selassie has found a large quantity of gold in the tomb of the famous Emperor Menelik, with a warning from Menelik that God would crush any person disturbing the gold unless there was a national danger. It had been thought there was only silver in the tomb.

PTA Moves To Ask For School Election

Plan Circulation Of Petitions For New Schools

Members of Jacksonville Parent-Teachers' Associations met Saturday afternoon and made plans to circulate petitions requesting the Board of Education to build two new grade or elementary schools in this city.

The petitions will be circulated by the P. T. A. members beginning Monday and it is hoped that the petitions will be ready for submission to the board at its meeting Tuesday night.

After the petitions have been filed with the board, a special election will probably be called immediately, so that Jacksonville may take advantage of the $92,545 PWA grant alloted to this city last Friday.

Three hundred and fifty signatures are required on the petitions and it is believed that twice this number will be secured before Tuesday night.

Mrs. E. W. Milburn, 825 South Clay avenue, was chosen as president, at the meeting held yesterday.

HOLD COMMUNITY MEET AT PRAIRIE COLLEGE

Armistice, 1935

The 18th anniversary of the signing of the Armistice that ended the world's first great conflict is here. Looking out over the nation today, we find things that did not exist in those stirring days when men went forth to make a sacrifice for a cause that was mostly founded on idealism.

Today young people are not thinking of giving their lives for their country, and we pray God they will not have to do that. But they are thinking rather of NOT giving their lives for their country "in any war." With the Armistice anniversary only a few days away 2,500 students met one day this past week on the campus of the College of the City of New York.

They took an anti-war pledge in which they said, "I will not fight for my country in any war." They thundered their approval of the pledge, and on campuses thruout the big metropolis similar anti-war demonstrations were held.

Of course nobody wants these young people to have to fight. The men who went to the front in 1917 are themselves ardent in the cause of peace. But when youth takes the stand that no contingency will induce it to fight for country, we are forced to the conclusion that something has snapped in the American character.

Armistice brings memories of a day 18 years ago, when the great war ended, and the American people expressed their happiness in a celebration that has no parallel in history. A love of peace was manifest that day, and the main question was "When will the boys be home?" No greater peace demonstration ever occurred.

But in that celebration there was patriotism. With four million men under arms, this nation would have accepted no compromise from a foreign foe. The men came back from the war and organized to help their buddies who were less fortunate and to keep alive the spirit of loyalty to their country.

What, then, is wrong with the younger generation? Does it lack the loyalty of the men of 1917? Or is it that insidious propaganda from abroad has inoculated our student population with the virus of pacifism? We prefer to believe that the rather startling pledge taken on the New York campus was the result of misleading thought put into the minds of the students. It is up to every red-blooded American to counteract this influence with all the might there is in him, and Armistice Day, 1935, is a good time to start.

The Fate of "Insiders"

Away back yonder when ticker tape meant profits it was considered a real honor to be let in "on the ground floor." Mr. Insull's companies had "preferred lists" of people who could get stock in the promotion schemes that ultimately wrecked the big stock empire of the middle west and sent its promoter scurrying across the sea.

At that time the "insiders" expected to get this money back and more. In fact some of them did get profits of 25 per cent. Then came the crash. The "preferred lists" were published in big type, and were some faces red? But that was only the beginning of trouble for the "insiders."

They have already paid back more than $214,000 to help retrieve the losses, and now suits are being prepared against some of the most prominent, who will be asked to pay or stand trial. Money is not so plentiful as it was when these men were let into the scheme thru a private entrance. Many of them will find it hard to scratch up the cash.

Somehow we have always been suspicious of an invitation to get "on the inside" of any financial deal. As a rule when there are special rewards to be had, the "big shots" say nothing about it. They lower the curtains to the "ground floor" windows and proceed to enjoy the feast.

But when things get a little shaky, when the bubble gets so big it begins to wabble and lean sidewise, the curtains are raised and the doors thrown open. It is time for outsiders to come in, and often, too, some wise insiders leave by the back door.

Orphans in Turkey

The Turkish government is gathering up its orphan children, or those who run the streets because of poverty at home. Nearly 5,000 are arrested annually on the streets of Istanbul alone, and as many more thruout the rest of Turkey. The government gives special attention to boys.

The children are forced to leave their homes on account of poverty, and roam the streets to beg or steal their living. By gathering them up, the government doubtless prevents the expansion of a future Turkish underworld. The system is an effort to meet a grave situation.

Portunate is the country where poverty does not force children into the streets. There are doubtless some parts of our large cities where this is true, but not to such a great extent. Parental neglect is responsible for more youthful waywardness in this country than is poverty in the home, tho sometimes the two go hand in hand.

The Turkish government will train these young street arabs, as Russia has trained the young thrown on her streets by the social upset of revolution. Germany is training her youth, as was demonstrated recently when 400,000 young Germans born during world war years took the oath of allegiance to Herr Hitler and the Reich. American youth is being trained in a magnificent school system, where all have equal opportunity to succeed according to their respective capabilities.

Improvement in Health

The great strides that public health has made in America in the present generation are strikingly illustrated by a remark by Dr. George Crile of Cleveland before the 25th clinical congress of the American College of Surgeons, in San Francisco.

"One of every 17 persons in the United States and Canada went to hospitals last year," said Dr. Crile, "but that is much less than one decade ago, when one of 10 went to a hospital annually."

Here is unmistakable evidence of a sharp rise in the general level of public health. A number of factors are responsible; advances in the science of medicine itself, unceasing vigilance on the part of public health departments, and general improvement in health education of the public at large.

People's Forum

This Department is Conducted by Our Readers. The Opinions Given Are Theirs.

SAFETY FIRST

Peoples Forum.

Your idea is a good one to allow people to discuss questions of public interest in this coulmn.

The citizens of Jacksonville seem uninformed as to the new state traffic laws. It is an offense punishable by arrest, for an auto or truck driver to fail to signal his intention to slow, stop, or turn left or right. So few drivers do give any signal that one is surprised to see one given.

A number of accidents in Jacksonville of late can be traced to this failure to signal.

Too much praise cannot be given the teachers in the public schools for their instructions about crossing the streets. If adults were as careful as the school-children there would be fewer persons hurt on the streets.

Let us obey the state traffic laws, and make Jacksonville a safer place in which to live and drive.

"SAFETY FIRST."

League's Authority for Peace at Stake, Says Dr. Julian Wadsworth

An interesting close-up of the events now taking place in the halls of the League of Nations is given in a letter received by Dr. and Mrs. A. B. Applebee from Dr. Julian S. Wadsworth. The letter was written from Geneva, Oct. 25, and contains information that will interest Jacksonville readers.

Dr. Wadsworth's analysis of the situation which has arisen because of the Italo-Ethiopian war, and his declaration of the principles involved in the part the League is taking are most enlightening. The letter follows:

You ask for some close-up impressions of the Italo-Abyssinian war as we are getting them in Geneva.

It certainly seems near the scene of action, as we sit in the public meetings of the League listening to the argument of the leading statesmen of Europe. Almost we can hear their heated discussion as it continues behind closed doors in private sessions. When the door opens a lot of us are there to catch up the whispered "rumor" which in a moment is flashed or radioed to all parts of the world. The very latest words spoken in Paris, London and Rome are heard here in the corridors of the Secretariat. Last night we were listening to words directly from the lips of one who was speaking from Addis-Ababa, the capitol city of the Negus of Abyssinia.

Millions of Lives at Stake

Of course as you know, this whole question has a very much wider importance than that of settling the justice or the injustice of an invasion into the territory of Ethiopia. It is defence of the League of Nations in which is vested the greatest effort ever made by man for the restraint of war. Is it possible for a community of nations to league themselves together so that by a united public opinion a nation that violates its solemn covenant can be designated as the aggressor state, and certain sanctions be applied which will prevent the war which threatens the peace of the world?

It is this principle which concerns the future and perhaps the lives of millions in Europe and other continents. It is this which brings this discussion of the war in Abyssinia to Geneva and makes it of world concern for the future. We beleive that this mightiest effort to restrain war will not at present be abandoned and, as Sir Samuel Hoare said yesterday, that we must now recognize that never has the League shown such encouraging vitality as it does at this time.

"Hang-Over" From World War.

Mussolini has failed to appreciate the latent power that is in a League of Nations. I heard Sisley Huddleston say the other day that Mussolini's attempt to grab what he thought was Italy's share of what remains of Africa is only a "hang-over" of the old policy of the world previous to the Great War, when the might of the strongest armed nation made it right to take what it pleased from a neighbouring state.

Even last summer when we were in Italy it was plainly seen that he was treating the League with the utmost contempt, threatening to "leave the League" if his plan for Abyssinian conquest was disapproved saying that "with or without the Approval from Geneva" he would continue to send his army into Africa. It was said that like Julius Caesar, he would make a flight to Abyssinia to lead "his own forces" into Adowa, where he would himself wipe out the shame of 39 years ago when with a crushing defeat the Abyssinians had there massacred a large number of Italians. However, in these past few weeks you have noticed a marked change in his attitude toward Geneva. Without doubt he is now giving closest attention, and is awaiting every word from here as he is afraid now of what will be the decision of a unanimous vote of these fifty member states in the League, relative to certain financial and economic sanctions. He had not thought these would be enforced since both in incident of war in Manchuria and between Bolivia, and Paraguay, the League had shown its weakness. But now a new life has come, with the whole-hearted support of Great Britain, with a solid vote of eleven and a half millions, favoring Britain's keeping her League Covenant. I was present at the meeting when the unanimous vote was taken, of the 39 member states in the League making Italy the "aggressor" by which vote according to the Covenant automatically "sanctions" may be applied. Not a bit of weakness has been shown in these actions. Mussolini has not withdrawn from the League, but is now doing everything possible to delay the action of the League.

New Tone in England

Sir Samuel Hoare, Great Britain's Minister of Foreign Affairs is frequently heard and always with profound respect. Since his replacement of Sir John Simon, there is a distinctly new tone, in all England's utterances on her foreign policy. Supported as he is by this recent marvelous vote of confidence by the whole people, he will do no other than support the League and keep their sacred promise in the Covenant, believing that if this covenant fails, hereafter there will be no significance in any Treaty signature. Every semblance of international law and order will cease, all national covenants become mere scraps of paper to be invoked when convenient and repudiated when troublesome.

Mr. Anthony Eden deserves world-wide appreciation for his indefatigable work here in Geneva. So young, so fine, straightforward, and sure, and withal so modest, that we can think of him in international diplomacy as like our Lindberg. I have been told that soon after the war, because of his own personal suffering in the loss of two brothers, this exceptionally gifted young man laid down his life in consecration to the one ambition of making that the last great war in the world.

It has been interesting to watch M. Laval, Premier of France in these days when the discussion has been tense. It has been a difficult position between his desire to hold both the friendship of Italy and Great Britain for his country. It appears as if an agreement had been made in his meeting with Mussolini last winter when in Rome, agreeing that Mussolini might have a free hand in Abyssinia, if Italy would stand against a threatened attack of Germany. Then later, Great Britain determined that the League of Nations must be sustained, and demanded if France would be true to her covenant obligations, in case a British man-of-war, should be attacked in the Mediterranean by any other nation "without provocation." For several days Laval withheld his answer, and when he must give his word "yes" or "No" within 24 hours, his answer came with a 2000 word note to Sir Samuel Hoare, unconditionally promising to keep the Covenant of the League. France could not hesitate when it was a question of losing the friendship of Great Britain providing "an unprovoked" attack should come from her near neighbor to the east.

Diplomats Don't Speak

Also, it has been interesting to note the presence in the various meetings of the Indian representative, Baron Aloisi and the Abyssinian, Tecle Hawariate. At first, as you know, these had no dealings with each other, the Italian proudly refusing to sit at the Council table with an Ethiopian so backward in culture. He left the room when the Abyssinian began to speak. But Mussolini ordered Aloisi to return, as Italy could not now afford to be absent when such important measures were to be taken. Aloisi has continued to sit in company with his fellow member of the League but I have never seen them in conversation.

An amusing incident occurred the other day, when Laval, Sir Samuel Hoare and Tecle Hawariate met at the same instant at a door, and after a moment of pause the Frenchman and the Britisher stepped back insisting that the Ethiopian go in first.

If in these last days, which is the "eleventh hour" there shall be "conciliation" and by some just means both Italy and Ethiopia shall lay down their weapons of war, without having to resort to the application of the dreaded "sanctions," then certainly M. Laval must have great credit for his request for the momentary delay. If then European War shall have been averted there can be no longer doubt of the invaluable service the League has rendered to the world. We have been seeking here in Geneva the trial of the case Italo-Abyssinia in which is involved the final effort of a League of Nations to establish in the world International Law and Order in place of settling national disputes by wars.

Julian S. Wadsworth.

MRS. WINTERS' STORY FINDS WAY BACK TO EUREKA SPRINGS, ARK.

Mrs. Mont R. Winters is the Journal and Courier correspondent at White Hall—has been for 23 years—but often her descriptive stories are clipped and used in other newspapers. The other day a story by Mrs. Winters bobbed up several hundred miles from home, in the Carroll Courier, published at Eureka Springs, Arkansas.

The White Hall woman was a visitor in Eureka Springs this fall while on an Ozark vacation. She attended a Singing Convention in Basin Park, amid a beautiful mountain setting, and wrote an interesting article for the Journal and Courier when she returned.

On October 24 the Eureka Springs newspaper printed Mrs. Winters' entire story of the Singing Convention. By so doing the Arkansas readers obtained an outsider's view of the attraction, which is unique in musical events of the Middlewest.

GARDEN CLUB PLANS ILLUSTRATED LECTURE

The Jacksonville Centennial Garden club will hold its first meeting of the year Friday evening at 7:30 at the Strawn Gallery. Members and friends will see the illustrated lecture, "Throughout the Year With Bulbs."

Mrs. Garm Norbury will read the manuscript, which accompanies the slides. This lecture comes highly recommended by the Better Home and Garden Magazine.

High score prize for the club was awarded to Mrs. Terhune; high guest prize to Mrs. Main and low to Mrs. Butler.

Behind The Scenes In Washington

Anti-Trust Law Suits May Be Aimed at Bread Price Hike . . . RA Chiefs Condescend Not to Punish Unpaid Workers Who "Squawked" . . . Rate Cut Figures Mixed . . . Way Found to Gauge F. R.'s Worries.

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
Journal and Courier Washington Correspondent

Washington.—There's some talk in responsible quarters of filing anti-trust law suits against groups alleged to have joined in raising the price of bread.

Thus far it's only talk. But evidence has been assembled and is being studied to determine what ground there may be for action.

The anti-trust law policy of the administration is so vague, especially since collapse of the NRA and during current faltering attempts to establish voluntary codes, that no one is predicting whether or not action will be taken.

It is conceded that some bread price prosecutions might be a smart political move. Much of the price-fixing in bread has affected only bread sold in intrastate commerce, but some of the higher-priced bread is regularly shipped across state lines.

Officials concerned have been reading with interest a recent excerpt from the Food Field Reporter, trade publication, which said the Flour Association of Philadelphia had demanded an increase of 3½ per cent in the wholesale price of bread so some bakers might pay flour bills long overdue. The story added:

"The association members control 99 per cent of the flour business in the city. It was pointed out by S. Gartland Horan, president of the association. He indicated that bakers who refuse to increase the price will find their flour supplies cut off."

Officials of the Philadelphia Bakers' Club are quoted, subsequently, as saying the price increase—amounting to 1 cent a loaf retail—had been virtually forced on the bakers by the flour men.

New High in Smugness

Several hundred employees of the Resettlement Administration recently went from three to nine weeks without their pay checks, which was no fun at all. There was some local publicity about it, so RA gave a statement saying the mess was due to a classification of its employees.

The plain fact was that the works became gummed up. RA's explanatory statement contained one paragraph which deserves particular attention:

"There has been and will be no attempt to investigate the identity of the Resettlement employees who advised the press of the payroll situation."

Censorship and secret attempts to spot and punish employees who have "leaked" news to the embarrassment of their superiors have been frequent in the New Deal. But the RA statement reaches a new high in its smug magnanimity—and nerve.

(Just the same, your correspondent doesn't mind denying a report that RA is paying $275,000 a year for office space in the Walsh mansion on Massachusetts avenue. It pays $20,000, none too cheap.)

Some Mixed Figures

Editor Frank Shannon of the Wharton Spectator, Wharton, Tex., calls attention to a recent error in this column which will be corrected herewith.

It was reported that PWA officials were quite proud because Wharton had obtained a reduction of 67 per cent in the price of its domestic electricity as a result of its plan to build a municipal plant with PWA money.

The 67 per cent reduction is really had been cumulative over a ten-year period. The error was due to a full page advertisement by the power company which ballyhooed the figures in such way as to cause PWA officials who saw it to believe that the cut had come all of a sudden.

THE DARK ANGEL

Fredric March, Merle Oberon and Herbert Marshall play the three lovers tossed helplessly about by the relentless tides of life in "THE DARK ANGEL," which begins a 3 day run at the FOX ILLINOIS Theatre today.

Set in a lovely, quiet corner of rural England, the story, which Lillian Hellman and Mordeaunt Shairp adapted to the screen from a play by Guy Bolton, reflects the conflicts and triumphs in the life of Kitty Vane, a beautiful English girl who, since childhood, has been loved by one boy, Gerald Shannon, (Marshall), while she loves his cousin, Alan Trent, (March).

Months in the trenches bring to Alan the realization of his love for Kitty. Home on leave he confesses his love and they ecstatically arrange to marry on the morrow. An order cancelling all leaves shatters their dream, however, and they spend their last hours together trying to forget that they may never see each other again.

Passes today for James B. Woods 331 E. Morton Avenue.

Armistice Day Proclamation Issued by Mayor; Stores to Close at Noon

White Hall—Mayor Stanley Thomas has issued a proclamation that all business be suspended in White Hall.

NOTICE

All service men and Legion Auxiliary meet at Legion Home at 10:15 o'clock this morning to attend service at Westminster church.

but everybody will be expected to attend the White Hall and Roodhouse football game at Roodhouse Monday afternoon.

F. E. Baker who is employed by the National Stock Yards at St. Louis writes from Tupelo, Mississippi, saying that Tupelo was the first city in the south to use electricity for light and power from the Norris Dam plant in Tennessee and that President Roosevelt visited Tupelo last spring inasmuch as it is one of his pet projects. He says it is the most prosperous looking city that he has visited for some time as business is good in the cotton country. Mr. Baker usually spends his week ends on the farm with his family west of White Hall.

Word comes from Quincy, that Miss Thelma Stipp, who is attending Gem Business College there has been elected school.

Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Miller of Greenfield drove to Booneville, Mo., Saturday to bring their son, DeBolt Miller, of Greenfield, and Kendall Seely and Junior Giller of White Hall home to spend the Armistice Day holiday.

Cases of Diphtheria

Reports from the State Board of Health are that Eugene Nichols, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Nichols, northwest of White Hall, and Rosetta Roodhouse, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Roodhouse have positive cases of diphtheria. They have been under quarantine several days as suspects. They are both White Hall High school students. Anita Nichols, sister of Eugene, has been staying in town with her uncle, Oscar Nichols and attending school while her brother was in quarantine.

Mrs. Harold Killibrew of Hillview, was a appendectomy patient in a Jacksonville hospital this week. She underwent an operation on Wednesday.

C. S. Smith of Eldred was a tonsilotomy patient in the White Hall hospital Tuesday night.

Mrs. A. L. Andrews continues quite ill at her home on Sherman street. She has been bedfast for several months.

The little son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Vaughan who live on Bradshaw's Mound, east of White Hall, has scarlet fever.

Conducts Election

Miss Mabel Ewin Will Be Worthy Matron; Plan Induction Nov. 19

Jerseyville—The annual election of officers of the Jerseyville Chapter Order of Eastern Star was held at the regular monthly meeting of the organization.

Miss Mabel Ewin was named Worthy Matron for the coming year to succeed Mrs. Nelle Dolan who has occupied that position for the past twelve months.

Other officers elected were: H. G. Neely, Worthy Patron; Mrs. Zetta Blish, Associate Matron; Harry Blish, Associate Patron; Mrs. Natalie Erwin, secretary; Mrs. Carrie Neely, Treasurer; Mrs. Escellyn Wilkinson, Conductress, and Mrs. Inez Reher, Associate conductress.

The appointive officers will be selected by Miss Ewin and will be announced at the installation ceremonies which will be held in the Masonic Temple on Tuesday evening, November 19th. At this meeting each member will be entitled to bring a guest.

Mrs. H. B. Hill and Mrs. Leal Cason were hostesses at the semi-annual meeting of the members of the Past Matrons' club of the Eastern Star Chapter of Jerseyville. The affair was a luncheon given at the Masonic Temple and a short business session followed.

Those present were: Mrs. J. C. Schwarz, Mrs. Grant Thompson, Mrs. W. B. Thompson, Mrs. W. B. Tietsort, Mrs. Louello Nowlin, Miss Minnie Brockman, Miss Olive Colean, Miss Mayme Beatty, Mrs. Fred A. DuHadway, Mrs. B. A. Mardsen, Mrs. J. C. Downey, Mrs. Natalie Erwin and Mrs. H. J. Gubser.

State Officials at Hospital This Week

Check Landscaping, Building Improvements; Plan to Repaint Roofs

Two state officials who visited the Jacksonville state hospital this week, furthered improvements in the grounds and plant at the institution. Bryant Hadley from the State Division of Architecture and Engineering inspected the roofs of the present buildings and checked the progress on new structures. It has been decided to paint the roofs of the present buildings.

C. C. Williamson, state landscape supervisor, also visited the hospital to check the progress in landscaping the grounds. Many dead trees are being removed and being replaced with new stock from the institution nursery. Other trees that were damaged by the storm are being trimmed and given proper tree surgery.

Wigfall O'Hair, state dairy supervisor, was a business caller at the hospital the past week.

Dr. S. D. McKinney, state deportation agent, visited the hospital on official business.

E. B. Bentley from the State Department of Agriculture, was a business caller at the hospital.

Two Cars Damaged In Collision Here

Machines Owned by Asa M. Robinson and Carrollton Man in Crash

Two cars were badly damaged Friday night in a collision which occurred on North Main street. Asa M. Robinson, driving a Plymouth car, was turning into his drive at 853 North Main street when his machine was struck by a Ford V-8 driven by Clyde Prough of Carrollton.

The force of the collision threw both cars into a truck patch adjacent to the Robinson premises. The left front door on the Robinson car was damaged, a tire ruined and the left front fender and running board crushed.

The right front fender on the Carrollton car was damaged, and a tire was blown out. However, both cars were able to get out under their own power. Fortunately no one was injured in the crash.

Song, "We've a Story to Tell to the Nations."

Scripture—Isaiah 13:6-7; 17-22.

Sentence prayers followed by Lord's Prayer in unison.

Address—Mrs. Gertrude Funk, superintendent Christian Home for the Aged.

Discussion Topic—"What Wars Do to the World."

Announcements—James E. Frye, president of the society.

Benediction.

A luncheon will be served at 6 p. m. after which the group will reassemble for the program.

The public is cordially invited to attend.

Miss Beilby Leach of Winchester was shopping in Jacksonville yesterday.

NOTES

Members of the B-Square Gray-Y club divided into two groups at their last meeting, November 5, at South Jacksonville school, each group to have charge of alternate meetings. Alice Reed was elected captain of the seventh and eighth grade group, and Polly Lou Robbins of the fourth, fifth, and sixth grade group.

Beatrice Prewitt, Virginia Bridges, and Mary Jane Mills won prizes.

With the election of officers at its last meeting, November 7, the Torch club of David Prince school began its fall activities. The new club heads are: president, William Sullivan; vice president, Bob Miller; secretary, George Shelton; and treasurer, Paul Kitner.

Plans for a Thanksgiving play engaged the attention of the Franklin Gra-Y members at their last meeting, November 6. Details of the play will be announced later.

In honor of Margaret Nelms' twelfth birthday, the Cheehalo Camp Fire group had a party and supper last Monday. Stunts and games, led by Emma Darr, entertained the members during their get-together.

Cheehalo officers for this year are: president, Emma Darr; vice president, Betty Jane Hamilton; secretary, Jean Loomis; and treasurer, Janey Frank.

FACTS YOU SHOULD KNOW ABOUT THE Individual Mausoleum
No More Underground Burials.
No More Watery Graves.
No More Dirt on the Casket.
The ideal of a perfect final resting place for departed loved ones.

The INDIVIDUAL MAUSOLEUM is a solace to every grieving heart and to place your loved ones in them, is to give them the best that brains can conceive, or money can buy. Each Individual Mausoleum is made of re-inforced concrete which will last for ages. Weighing approximately 4500 pounds. Is built with two chambers, the lower in which the casket is placed, is hermatically sealed, and the upper, immediately below the lid and just above the casket chamber, built to equalize the temperature of air in lower chamber, thus causing capillary action, drawing the water from the body up into the upper chamber, and by atmospheric absorption thru the lid, the moisture from the body is taken out, thus preserving it indefinitely.
The INDIVIDUAL MAUSOLEM has been used in all parts of the United States and Canada. You will find tem in the hot, damp sections of the soth; the earthquake area of Californiand in the northwest, where 50 degreebelow zero temperatures are not unusal.
After you witness an interent nothing can be said that would eep you from saying or at least thiring "This is my ideal of a perfect finalesting place."

Bill Camp Sends The Alphabet as Gift to a Friend

"It Says All Things That Man Can Say," Writes Poet Philosopher

W. S. Camp, formerly of Jacksonville, sent birthday anniversary greetings to a friend here in a most unique way—a poem which began with all letters of the alphabet. Mr. Camp is now residing at 1111 Mulberry street, San Antonio, Texas.

The friend who received the poetical birthday greeting appreciated it deeply. Other friends of Mr. Camp, too, will be interested in the following verse:

Behold, dear friend, the alphabet!
Its six and twenty letters set
In order due and right array,
Says all the things that man can say
They voice all passions, state all truth,
Express the heart of age and youth.
They hold philosophy and wit,
And song with mirth and every bit
Of poetry and eloquence,
Of lofty thought and homely sense.
And every joyous, friendly thing
That one can write or play or sing.
Here are the rugged words of friends
Who clasp hands when the journey ends,
And tender messages of cheer
To those far off, yet closely dear.
And, so instead of sending you
Merely a birthday wish or two,
With lordly generosity
Which still does not impoverish me,
I give you the whole mine from which
Are due those treasures rare and rich.
The raw material for each word
By which the hearts of men are stirred.
Take this crude stuff of poetry,
And, with your better wit, be free
To find in it—as you can do—
The things that I would like to say to you.
These unset jewels—make of them
A necklace, chain or diadem;
And read, with friendship's second sight,
The words I dare not try to write.
W. S. Camp.

J.H.S. Newspaper Will Be Revived

Appoint Students to Take Charge of Trial Copy for Class Study

Miriam Cowgur was elected to lead the newly formed Literary club of the high school at the meeting held Thursday evening under the supervision of Miss Margaret Moore. Other students who attained offices in the organization were Susanna Riggs, vice president; Barbara Cleary, secretary; Carol McClelland, treasurer and Dorothy Fancher, program chairman.

Dorothy Fancher presided over the meeting as temporary chairman. The club will be divided into two groups, one for poetry and literary work, and the other for journalistic study.

The second group is hoping to revive the J.H.S. newspaper which has not been published for several years. Dorothy Fancher was appointed to act as editor for the first edition of the school paper, which will be a trial copy for class study.

Other members of the staff who were appointed to various positions are: William Lucas, Bob Newport, Louise Guthery, Katherine Mae Hitte, Miriam Cowgur, Barbara Hickle, Verona Wolke, Barbara Cleary and Manford Ruby.

Harold Gibson has given the club valuable suggestions about the practical work of the newspaper.

LOW PRICE doesn't make a Bargain . . . . .

During the past few years, low price has been a strong factor in the selection of shoes. And, too often, shoes at bargain prices have turned out to be expensive luxuries—costing you many times their purchase price in weakened arches, pinched and aching feet, corns, callouses, and their resulting physical distress. In other words you got just what you paid for . . . a bargain.

Shoes are an investment—and in quality shoes you get real returns in style, wear, and comfort. Buy quality shoes—and learn it's what you get, not how much you spend—that makes a shoe a bargain.

Wildcats Beat Irish 14 To 7; Illinois Defeats Michigan 3 To 0

Northwestern Team Springs Big Surprise by Capturing Game From Layden's Outfit

By Paul Mickelson
Associated Press Sports Writer

South Bend, Ind., Nov. 9.—(AP)—Notre Dame's new wonder team of football, perched on the highest peak since the day's of its immortal Knute Rockne, fell into the ruins of an almost unbelievable 14 to 7 defeat today.

Northwestern, a team that hasn't been able to win more than one Big Ten game this season and a university that hasn't boasted of a triumph over the Fighting Irish in 34 long years, accomplished the stunning upset amidst a setting of rain and twilight before 35,000 spectators who hardly realized it was true.

The Wildcats kicked around and defeated three times in their own conference, came through with a copyright Notre Dame rally. Trailing by 7 points—almost 14 as one Irish touchdown was called back because of holding—the Wildcats rushed back to tie the score in the second period, added another touchdown in the third, and then stood like a Gibraltar as the fighting Irish, fought back with the same full fury that brought them from nowhere to victory over Ohio State a week ago.

The defeat, scored by Northwestern's "Iron Man" back field, Wally Cruice, Steve Toth, Hugh Duvall, and Slippery Don Heap, turned the happiest Notre Dame football dream in five years into a nightmare. All hopes of a national championship to match the last Rockne model of 1930 and a place in the Rose Bowl went tumbling.

Paul Tangora, a senior guard from Washington, D. C., didn't push over the winning touchdown, Heap did that with a 5 yard sprint—but he was the hero of heroes in the Wildcat camp. It was Tangora, a square chinned six-footer, who turned the tide. As the Fighting Irish flayed the center of the line, Paul was sent in to stop them and he did it. Then in the final period, he pounced on Wally Fromhart's fumble to set in motion the winning drive from the enemy's 30-yard stripe. Tangora also recovered another fumble on the Notre Dame 33 to give his mates a chance, but they couldn't cash.

Heap, the platinum blonde boy who raced 43 yards to beat Illinois, a week ago and Duvall, a stocky hard driving fullback, capitalized on the break produced by Tangora. Smashing the line, most of the time behind Tangora, they alternated until they reached the five yard mark. From there, Heap skirted his right end behind brilliant blocking to score the winning touchdown standing up. Duvall kicked his second point after touchdown and the damage was done.

Bill Shakespeare gave the Notre Dame fans their final big thrill, as he raced 48 yards a minute later to Northwestern's 10, but the Wildcats held. The game ended as Don Geyer hauled down Shakespeare's long, desperate pass and raced it back 40 yards to Notre Dame's 30.

The game started out like another Notre Dame victory march. After Big Don Elser's 13 yard dash over the goal in the first period had been nullified. With the holding penalty, Notre Dame marched 41 yards on 10 plays to score with Mike Layden and Elser's smashing and spinning to the one foot mark from where Fromhart sneaked over for the score.

Fromhart kicked the extra point.

Coach Elmer Layden, at that point, sent in his second stringers but before he could rush back his first team the Wildcats were on their way to the tying touchdown. A 27-yard dash by Heap to Notre Dame's 14 set off the fireworks. In rushed the regulars, but on fourth down, Cruice stepped back to the 20 and tossed a high pass over the line to Henry Wadsworth Longfellow, who doesn't like poetry by the way—he jumped high into the air and hauled it down for the score. Duvall kicked the extra point and that's how it stood until the Wildcats' really got wild.

Score by periods:

Northwestern	0	7	0	7	—14
Notre Dame	7	0	0	0	— 7

Northwestern scoring: touchdowns, Longfellow, Heap.
Point after touchdown—Duvall (2); (placements).
Notre Dame scoring: Touchown, Fromhart.
Point after touchdown—Fromhart (placement).

Ohio State Trims Chicago 20 To 13

By Charles Dunkley
Associated Press Sports Writer

Chicago, Nov. 9.—(AP)—In a blood and thunder thriller, an infuriated Ohio state team came from behind today and fought with all its power to keep its Western Conference record unblemished.

Trailing the down-trodden Chicago Maroons, 13 to 0 midway in the third period of their game, the Buckeyes cut loose with a smashing, passing drive that resulted in three touchdowns, and a 20 to 13 triumph. Fifteen thousand spectators braved a drizzling rain and a chilling wind to witness the conflict.

Ohio State got the victory and remained undefeated in Big Ten competition. But the glory of the game belonged to Jay Berwanger, Captain of the Maroons and sometimes called the one-man team.

The great Chicago halfback raced 85 yards down the field through the whole Buckeye team, dodging and twisting in the snakiest gallop seen on Stagg field since the famed Red Grange sped over the gridiron ten years ago.

That hair rising run gave Chicago its second touchdown and a 13 to 0 lead over the Chicagoans in the third. But Berwanger wasn't quite enough to combat the powerful last-period attack.

Ordinary football players for three periods, with the Maroons fighting and stopping them, the Buckeyes became the famed scarlet scourge in the last 20 minutes of the game and kept on going until the valiant Chicago eleven was overwhelmed by three touchdowns.

Ohio took to the air for its first score standing on Chicago's 35 yard line. Pincura shot a pass to Heekin, who was knocked out of bounds on the 1 yard line. It two smashes Heekin had the ball over, but Busich's try for a point failed.

As soon as the final period opened, Ohio State opened up, too. Two passes put the ball in scoring position. Pincura did something heroic in passing as he dashed back and whipped a long forward to Wendt who took the ball on the 10 yard line and dashed across for a second touchdown, a net gain of 30 yards. Beltz came into the game and kicked the important tying point.

The rampaging Buckeyes then ran through Chicago for the winning marker, with Williams carrying the ball over from the eleven yard line. Busich made good with a place kick for the extra point.

Berwanger carried the ball 13 times and gained 130 yards, averaging ten at a smash. He also threw five passes for 60 yards, did the punting, and played brilliantly on defense. But the one man team was not enough. He stayed in there for 60 minutes, and at the finish he was still raring to go.

Ohio State	0	0	6	14	—20

Roodhouse Hopes to Climb To Valley Top Armistice Day

Just over the horizon lies another football championship for Roodhouse high, one of the most consistently strong football teams in the Illinois Valley league. They need a victory over White Hall Armistice Day to clinch the flag, a victory practically all of the home town fans are ready to concede, but one which may develop into a tough one to bring home.

Two Valley tilts are on tap for the Valley Leaguers Monday, White Hall moving up to Roodhouse with its eyes on its chance to finish in a tie for the championship by spilling the Railroaders, while Winchester goes over to Pittsfield to take part in the Indians' Armistice Day program.

Defeated only in its opening game this year at Quincy, the Railroaders have been riding rough shod over opponents in their own league and taking care of their assignments outside the conference with relative ease. Probably the strongest team in this section of the state, and certainly the team best supplied with replacements, the Railroaders loom as a strong favorite over their ancient rivals.

That White Hall will be lightly regarded is unlikely, however, for any team which is able to come up to the end of the season in second place is a threat. Not only that, but Coach Bruno Bierman, who took over the job at White Hall this year, has done a real job in bringing the Maroon and Gold out of the conference cellar in the short space of one season. A series of set-backs in their last two games will serve as a spur that will bring out the best football, the coach believes, when the team goes up against its old rival.

A crowd of from 2,000 persons up is expected to witness the wind-up to Roodhouse's home season, the Railroaders having one more engagement with Jacksonville high after Monday. White Hall has yet to tackle Carrollton.

Roodhouse has never been lower than second place in the conference standings with a single exception, since the league was organized. Coach Mason Campbell, who succeeded Foster Keagle, probably has one of the greatest of all Roodhouse teams this year.

Several of the Roodhouse players have been mentioned for all-state honors, including the diminutive but elusive "Jumping Jack" Alred.

Winchester to Close.

Winchester, another of the light but strong teams in the conference this year, will wind up with Pittsfield on the same afternoon, while Pittsfield postpones its final game until Friday night when they go to Quincy. On dope, the teams stack up about even, and one of those old-time Winchester-Pittsfield battles is expected to result.

Perry Looking For More Cage Battles

England, I. C. Grad, Books 18 Games But Wants More For His First Quintet

Perry, Nov. 9.—With four lettermen from last year's first string squad of ten players available, Coach Forrest England, Illinois College graduate, has begun building the Perry high school basketball team. Perry this year will face some of its strongest competition.

The schedule this year calls for 18 game and three tournaments, including the district tournament. England, however, would like to line up games for Nov. 23, Dec. 7, Jan. 4, Feb. 8 and Feb. 22.

The Perry schedule will open Nov. 15 with Kinderhook on the local court. The starting line-up will be chosen from M. Johnson, N. Kurfman, M. Wade, S. Johnson, M. Baker, E. Bradbury, R. Chenowith, G. Hammant and P. Smith.

The schedule is as follows:
Nov. 15—Kinderhook here.
Nov. 22—at Baylis.
Nov. 27—Mt. Sterling here.
Dec. 6—Chambersburg here.
Dec. 13—at Bluffs.
Dec. 17—Barry here.
Dec. 20—at Griggsville.
Dec. 26—Milton tournament.
Jan. 3—Chambersburg here.
Jan. 10—at Hull.
Jan. 11—Milton here.
Jan. 17—at Barry.
Jan. 18—Barry and New Salem here.
Jan. 24—West Pike tournament.
Feb. 1—at Kinderhook.
Feb. 6—Bluffs, here.
Feb. 14—at Milton.
Feb. 15—Hull here.
Feb. 21—Griggsville here.

Gophers Defeat Hawkeyes 13-6

By L. E. Skelley
Associated Press Staff Writer

Iowa City, Iowa, Nov. 9.—(AP)—Minnesota's mighty football force, stalled for 30 minutes by a furious Iowa offensive, let loose a crushing counter-charge in the second half here today to whip the Hawkeyes 13 to 6 in their battle for the Western Conference leadership.

Fifty thousand homecoming fans, chilled by a cold drizzle during most of the game, saw the Gopher horde rise up for a two touchdown rally in the last half after Iowa surprised the Norsemen with a first quarter touchdown.

The Gophers were consistently outplayed in the first half when they made only four first downs to six for the Hawkeyes.

Minnesota came back with a crushing line attack, mixed with deceptive to win its third Big Ten game of the season and continue as one of the favorites for the championship.

George Roscoe, Sheldon Beise and Tuffy Thompson, the burly Gopher backs, piled up 209 yards from scrimmage, most of them in the last half, Iowa collected 103 yards by rushing.

Oze Simmons, the Iowa negro star, could not break through the heavy Minnesota line for any of his celebrated touchdown sprints today, but the Texas lad was a constant threat.

Oze started the Iowa touchdown when he returned a punt from his 30 yard line to his own 35. Minnesota received its only penalty for roughing the Iowa back, and was back to midfield when Thompson piled on Simmons after he was downed.

The Hawkeyes advanced to the Minnesota 23 yard line as Simmons tossed a pass to Homer Harris, Hawkeye end, and moved it 12 more when Simmons shot a pass to Captain Dick Crayne. Simmons, Crayne and Johnny Hild added nine more on plunges and Iowa got a first down on the one yard line on a Minnesota offside penalty.

Hild crashed over left guard for the Iowa touchdown on the next play, but Simmons missed the try for the extra point.

Minnesota, started to march in the second half after Crayne punted out of bounds on his own 44 yard line. Malcolm Eiken and Andy Uram, substitute backs, smashed to the 31, and Roscoe slipped a long toss to Babe Levoir who was downed on the nine yard mark.

After Uram added three years, Beise cracked off right guard for the tying points. Levoir's place-kick was wide. The Gophers opened their winning drive a few minutes after the start of the last period. They got possession of the ball when Crayne kicked out of bounds on the Minnesota 23 yard line and let loose a sustained march down field.

After going to the Hawkeye 32 yard line, Thompson tossed a pass to Levoir who was stopped on the 13 yard line. Beise and Thompson drove through the line to the six yard mark and then the latter went wide around the Iowa left end for the touchdown. Levoir's kick for the extra point split the posts, and Minnesota led 13 to 6.

Indiana Wallops Maryland 13-7

By Dillon Graham.
Associated Press Sports Writer

Baltimore, Nov. 9.—(AP)—A long, daring pass, thrown in desperation, sailed over the goal line into the arms of a substitute here today and brought Indiana a 13 to 7 intersectional football victory over Maryland.

Trailing the Terrapins by a single point and with the minutes fast ticking away, the red-shirted Hoosiers halted a Maryland drive 10 yards from their goal and, throwing all caution aside, cut loose with a passing barrage that had the Marylanders bewildered by its suddenness and long range.

Starting from their 30, after Gormley's field goal attempt went wide, Quarterback Vernon Huffman pitched a 38-yard aerial to Roland Oberchain, a reserve flankman, and the Hoosiers were in scoring range on the 35. Then, from the 30, Huffman again let loose an angled pass toward the goal.

The ball came soaring over the line and Coleman Headley, Maryland's quarterback, leaped to bat it down. His fingertips touched the ball but, instead of downing it, the push served to bounce it further along and down it came into substitute end Vincent Schaefer's grasp.

Wisconsin Whips Purdue 8 To 0

By E. L. Almen.
Camp Randall Stadium, Madison, Wis., Nov. 9.—(AP)—Wisconsin's victory starved Badgers shook off the memory of five straight defeats to hammer out an 8-0 decision over Purdue here today in one of the major upsets of the Western Conference football season.

A slim homecoming crowd of 17,000 saw Wisconsin play a brilliant defensive game to check in its first win of the campaign. A light drizzle that fell throughout the game proved advantageous for Wisconsin which recovered several fumbles deep in Purdue territory.

A safety put the Badgers out in front in the second period. They added a touchdown in the third and then were content to play a cautious defensive game thereafter.

Princeton Beats Harvard 35 To 0

By Alan Gould.
Associated Press Sports Editor.

Princeton, N. J., Nov. 9.—(AP)—Princeton's football juggernaut, using nearly three complete teams, outclassed Harvard and handed the Crimson an artistic shellacking, 35 to 0, before 45,000 spectators this crisp, balmy afternoon.

The Tigers registered their sixth straight victory of the 1935 campaign without being seriously extended by a plucky Harvard outfit that was no match for the home side in manpower. The Crimson never threatened to score, penetrated Princeton territory only three times and made its deepest advance to the Tiger 33-yard mark, in the last few moments of the game.

Princeton, held scoreless only in the second period, put over five touchdowns by an assortment of methods. Paul Pauk, who shared the ball-carrying honors with Jack White, plunged across the Crimson goal line twice as the climax of dazzling Tiger marches. Big Fred Ritter, a 60 minute man, who was the standout in Princeton's powerful line, intercepted a pass and ran 57 yards for a touchdown. Gil Les blocked a Harvard punt and scooped up the ball to tally another. Chick Kaufman plunged for the final touchdown after Charley Toll, sophomore tackle, recovered a fumbled punt near the Harvard goal line.

WESLEYAN WINS

Bloomington, Ill., Nov. 9.—(AP)—Illinois Wesleyan toppled Northern Teachers from the undefeated class in the Illini intercollegiate conference today, 7 to 0.

An official's ruling of pass interference gave Wesleyan the ball on the two yard line in the last quarter and Clyde Peterson plunged across the goal. The losers had the ball on Wesleyan's one yard line as the half ended.

ELMHURST WINS

Elmhurst, Ill., Nov. 9.—(AP)—A first half scoring spree gave Elmhurst College a 32 to 6 victory over the Mission House eleven today. The losers scored in the third period after the Elmhurst second team had been inserted.

Lowell Spurgeon Boots 31 Yard Place Kick to Give Zuppke's Eleven Victory

By William Weekes
Associated Press Sports Writer

Champaign, Ill., Nov. 9.—(AP)—The fighting Illini of Illinois, at their fightingest, wrecked what ever Western Conference gridiron title hopes Michigan may have entertained by whipper the Wolverines, 3 to 0, in rain swept Memorial stadium today.

The lethal blow was delivered by Lowell Spurgeon, sophomore halfback from Centralia, Ill., who booted a 31-yard place kick in the waning minutes of the second period.

On two other occasions, Michigan had to stage mighty goal-line stands. In the third period, Wilbur Henry, Illinois quarter-back who had lugged and passed the ball from the Illinois 26 to the Michigan 6, fumbled at the gate to the promised land.

The game will go into the books as a mild upset. The manner in which the Illini achieved their victory, however, was entirely unexpected. Not only did Bob Zuppke's lighter warriors stop the Michigan offense so cold that it netted only 10 yards from scrimmage, but they constituted a constant threat to Michigan's goal line.

All afternoon Michigan, which went into the battle fresh from triumphs over Indiana, Wisconsin, Columbia, and Pennsylvania, turned in just one first down, on a penalty.

The weather robbed the Wolverines of their most potent weapon, Bill Renner's passing. The Wolverine Captain unlimbered only two heaves. The first shot fell incomplete. The second was intercepted.

The Illini, who have depended largely upon tricky lateral and forward passing plays for the past two seasons, produced a running game that joined Michigan back on its heels from the start, while Michigan never advanced closer than the 46-yard line to the Illinois goal.

The Illinois scoring drive started when Spurgeon returned one of Sweet's kick 18 yards to Michigan's 33. Spurgeon was dropped by Art Valpey for a 13 yard loss on the next play. Henry shot a pass over center to Wright for six yards and Spurgeon followed it up with a 12 yard heave to Henry. Henry smashed into the middle of the Wolverine line for four yards and a first down on the Michigan 21.

Henry was stopped at center, and when two passes dropped harmlessly Spurgeon dropped back to Michigan's 41 yard mark. Henry held the ball, on the 31. The boot lagged a little something in power, but had enough to just clear the cross bar and provide the three points that meant victory.

J. H. S. To Battle With Red-Heads

Trouble Looms For Locals As Virginia Girds For Last Two Games

Jacksonville high and Virgina, bitter gridiron rivals over a period of years, will meet Monday on the Virginia playing field to determine the issue for another year, and from all appearances, there will be plenty of trouble ahead for the Jacksonvill lads.

There are two reasons—Virginia is getting ready for its biggest football week, playing Jacksonville Monday and Beardstown Friday, and Virginia was summarily bumped off a week ago at Rushville while they were in the midst of a gallant fight for a part of the Spoon River conference flag.

They would have had a chance at the gonfalon if they had not been off at Rushville, 26-0, by turning in a win over Beardstown in the wind-up game. They still have a chance to toss the title race into a jolly mix-up by handing their Cass county rivals a set-back.

Jacksonville high figures into the scheme of things because they happen to have scheduled a game in between the Rushville disaster and the Beardstown battle. Virginia has a lot of things to key themselves up about and the chances are pretty strong that they will be somewhere near a morale high.

The Red-heads have a number of seniors on this year's team, virtually the same that came to Coach Paul Auwarter when Virginia resumed football two years ago. They are all experienced recall the 13-0 decision the Crimsons marked up last year.

Coach Frank Walker probably will use the same team that battled the Alumni late this week, with Scott, Ranson, Leach, Benson and Davis alternating in the backfield, and Frank and Hamilton, ends, Chinowith and Bradshaw, tackles, Hopper and Breeding, guards, and Hartman center.

CHANDLERVILLE BEATS CHAPIN FIVE

Chandlerville, Nov. 9.—Chandlerville's hardcourt outfit was host to the Chapin five Friday night, winning easily 32-12. The visitors staged a rally in the second half but were unable to approach within striking distance of the local's total. The score at the half was 15-3.

Chandlerville also took the second team curtain raiser, 23-7.

Each Coach Forecasts Win For Opponents as Rockets And Tigers Finish Drills

Bustly setting the stage for their annual football classic, coaches from Routt High and Illinois School for the Deaf took time out from their hurried efforts to forecast that the other team would win, and both pointed out flaws in their own teams to substantiate their arguments.

The game, scheduled for 2:30 Monday afternoon on the I.S.D. field, will bring out the biggest crowd of the season, for Jacksonville and surrounding community never forgets that when these two local prep teams get together, anything that can be concocted on a football field is something in favor of the team than can spring it

Possibility that both teams will be crossed up by a wet field loomed when Saturday's downpour drenched the field, leaving little hope that the ground would be dry enough by Monday for secure footing. Two days of rapid drying will be needed to get the field in perfect shape.

Expect Wide Open Game

One thing was certain as the teams went through their final drills—this year's conquest is going to be fought out through the air if it is possible to do much throwing. The running attacks of both schools have not been functioning as well as the coaches desire, and they have both turned to the air as a means of scoring quickly and as a means of having something by which they can bring themselves up to a par with their opponents if they show a strong running attack.

Routt is one of the few schools which has learned how to check the sweeping end runs Coach S. Robey Burns has been teaching his laddybucks for years. Routt ends have been taught how to spill the interference and thereby cut the ball carrier loose from his protective guard near the line of scrimmage. Whether they can do it again this year remains to be seen.

Chances of the Tigers to come off the field with their first victory over Routt in five years have been considerably dimmed by injuries, according to the I.S.D. coach, who reported Saturday that four of his regulars were definitely out of the line-up. His wide awake end, Baumann, is on the sidelines with a damaged ankle, and will not be able to get in the game, Burns declared, and Dioric, the fiery little guard who played such a bang-up game against the Rockets last year, also is on the injured list.

Two Backs Out

Two regular backs, Zehnder and Otten, are not expected to start the game, and may not be able to get in because of injury and illness. Zehnder is nursing a damaged ankle, and Otten is not in the best of health.

That still leaves the Tigers with five players who figured in last year's almost moral victory, ready for this year's game, against four Routt players who appeared in last year's starting line-up. Capt. Karol, center and one of the most vicious tacklers on the Tiger team, Pepperdine, 201 pound tackle, Wildrich, who has been moved into the backfield for this game, Ariano, a shiftylittle speedy quarterback, and Arman, a lanky hard smashing fullback who has plenty of zip to his running.

I.S.D.'s chances are regarded the best they ever have been for a victory in this game, for it is their habit to play their best game against the Rockets.

It will be the last game for a large number of the Tigers who will pass the age limit imposed on them by the Illinois High School Athletic Association. A large number of the regulars are 19 years of age, and will pass the age limit before another season rolls around.

Four Veterans for Routt

Routt, coming out of the worst season they have had in five years, will have only four boys to shoot at the Tigers who played against them last year. They are Red Lonergan, who probably will captain the team, Fritscher, an end last year playing tackle this year, Bill Buoy, mite quarterback, and "Skeets" Lawrence, one of the smoothest pieces of running machinery to grace a Routt line-up. Three of these boys will be playing their last game for Routt, and another probable starter, Al McGinnis, likewise will be making his last start for the Royal Purple. The three are Lonergan, Fritscher, and Buoy.

Routt probably will change its tactics for the game, over tactics it has used in previous Routt-I.S.D. games. Before, Routt has relied almost entirely on running plays, but this year they probably will attempt to go through the air, because of previous experience with the front line of the I.S.D. defense. The Tigers have been weak against passes, and Routt players have been quick to notice this defect.

There will be no more games for either team after Monday's battle. The records of the two teams to date:

Routt 14, Trinity 6.
Routt 27, Quincy Academy 0.

Chester Braner spent the day in the city on Monday and remained over night with his daughter, Mrs. Percy Ballard.

Harry Barber, who has been picking apples in the Apple Orchards near Valley City the past month, spent the week-end at home, but returned the first of the week to finish the work.

Mrs. Ida Hitchens and Mrs. Olive Chapman from the city called on Levi Deatherage and family Sunday afternoon.

Y. M. C. A. Has Long Record Of Service In Jacksonville

Association Serves Youth Of Community For 65 Years

Sixty five years ago the Jacksonville Young Men's Christian Association began a history of service to the youth of this community. It is the oldest Christian character building institution, outside of the Christian church, in Jacksonville today, says A. D. Hermann, secretary. Continuing he states.

"Today Jacksonville is facing the great task of keeping that association alive to be of continuing service to Jacksonville youth.

"Changing times make great changes in programs. Formerly the work of the "Y" was almost entirely confined within the four walls of its building. Today the work of the Jacksonville Y.M.C.A. is almost entirely outside of the walls of the building which houses its office.

"Time has changed many things. But the fundamental needs of youth in the development of character are practically the same today as when the Association was organized. The use or misuse of leisure time of youth is usually the determining factor in the development of character. The Y. M. C. A., past and present, provides a program of constructive leisure time activity.

"During the past 12 months the Jacksonville Y.M.C.A. has conducted a program of which comparatively few persons realize the extent. A total of 83 different groups consisting of 1342 boys and girls, young women and men, have had a part in the year's activity, the program ranging from boy and girl groups in the schools, athletic leagues in baseball, basket ball, volley ball and "Kitten" ball, young people's social programs, neighborhood family gatherings, etc. The work was conducted in the various school buildings of Jacksonville, churches, homes and other places."

Grade School (Gra-Y Clubs) — groups 5; sessions 140; attendance 2765; enrollment, boys 177.

Officers' Training Clubs—groups 2; sessions 18; attendance 216; enrollment, boys 41.

Young People's Social Group—groups 1; sessions 23; attendance 690; enrollment, boys 57, girls 37.

Colored Folks Social and Games—groups 1; sessions 9; attendance 925; (no enroll.)

Community Gatherings—groups 1; sessions 23; attendance 6100; (no enroll.)

Groups 14; sessions 309; attendance 12,576; enrollment, boys, 364; girls, 136.

Physical Program

Basket Ball—Men. Teams 9; games 71; participants, young men 81.

Volley Ball—Men. Teams 12; games 136; participants, young men 126.

Base Ball—Men. Teams 9; games 77; participants, young men 123.

Base Ball—Boys. Teams 10; games 21; participants, boys 120.

Kitten Ball—Men. Teams 19; games 225; participants, young men 283.

Kitten Ball—Women. Teams 6; games 22; participants, women 85.

Teams, 69; games 564; participants, boys 144; young men 613; women 85.

The total of regular groups follows:

23 Groups of Boys, 508 members.

49 Groups of Young Men (and older) 613 members.

8 Groups of girls and young women, 221 members.

83 Groups — Total enrolled, 1342 members.

Program for 1935-1936.

In addition to all of the above activities (which this year will probably be greater than last) the program for this winter and the coming year includes a number of additional activities. Clubs for girls have already been started in all five of our grade schools, MacMurray College students being the leaders. (Illinois College students lead the boys' clubs.) Volley ball and basket ball leagues for young women are at present in the process of organization, the "Y" having secured permission from MacMurray college to rent their gymnasium two evenings each week for this purpose. An increased program for colored young people is being planned under the leadership of Virgil Vanderberg, a colored student of Illinois College. Other programs in prospect includes an extension of the recreational work of the "Y" into other communities of the county where the limited expense of such a program can be met by those communities.

Tho with very little equipment the Jacksonville Association is demonstrating something of what can be done thru co-operative effort under the direction of trained leadership. The field of possible service is almost limitless, dependent on the available personnel, together with financial support of the community.

The city or community which does not consider its youth as its greatest asset is liable to be compelled to deal with them as its greatest liability.

Every loyal citizen of Jacksonville owes it to Jacksonville to have an interest in and to take part in the support of its character building agencies.

The Y.M.C.A. campaign for funds for current expenses will be held Nov. 18 to 25.

Blue Boys Pull "Humdinger" Twice to Take Game From Strong Naperville Eleven

Naperville, Ill., Nov. 9.—In a sustained last quarter drive Illinois college defeated North Central here today 12-7.

The Illinois team was crippled through the loss of Mangiere who fractured a shoulder last week, and Kurtz who was unable to dress because of a last minute bad leg.

Abe Feduris at tackle, played one of the greatest games of his four years at I. C. Mike Yupsich filled the other tackle berth in Kurtz' absence.

Illinois scored first at the start of the second quarter. Taking the ball on their own 33, the Illinois team worked the ball through two first downs to the Naperville 29-yard line. The Blue Boys reached into their bag of tricks at this point and Donat, on the famous humdinger, carried the ball to the five-yard stripe. Three plays netted four yards and then Smith carried the ball over. Watts missed his drop kick.

A sweep around end from the fifty to the 26 by Spiegler and a pass Adler to Dotlich put the ball in scoring position for North Central on the Illinois' 5. Heilman scored on a double reverse and Spiegler kicked goal as the half ended to put the Northerners into the lead 7-6.

Two Illinois college threats in the third quarter were cut short, the first when Russell intercepted a pass, and the second when a lateral pass went wild on the fourth down.

The last touchdown drive started again on the Illinois 33. A pass Watts to Speuhr netted 10 yards. Another Watts to Donat took the ball to the 48. Another pass was knocked down and Illinois took time out. At resuming play the Blue Boys again pulled the humdinger with Speuhr carrying the ball and took the ball to the North Central 25. Speuhr on three successive runs carried the leather to the 14. Donat in two plays took the ball to the 3, and Smith plunged over. Watts' kick was blocked.

Illinois kept the ball the rest of the game and the game ended with the ball in Illinois' possession on North Central's two-yard mark.

Lineup:

Illinois College	Pos.	North Central
Lorenz	L.E.	Chumley
Yupsich	L.T.	Breen

PITT VICTORIOUS

By John F. McMahon

Associated Press Staff Writer.

Pittsburgh, Nov. 9.—(AP)—The football hosts of Pittsburgh, blasting thru the line and shelling the foe from aloft, scored an amazing 29 to 6 triumph this afternoon over the grim cadets from West Point.

A gay home-coming throng of 68,000 fans packed Pitt's stadium and roared applause at the Panthers, entering the final period with a 10 to 0 lead, slammed over three touchdowns in the closing minutes of strife.

WINS HANDICAP

Pimlico Race Track, Md., Nov. 9.—(AP)—Thursday, owned by Selby L. Burch, today won the $7,500 added Riggs handicap, mile and three sixteenths feature on the card. Mrs. Deering Howe's Only One was second and Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt's Hindu Queen was third.

Fern Watson, of Lynnville, was a shopper Saturday in local stores.

Ashland callers in this vicinity yesterday include Mrs. J. S. Shelton.

Virginia School Plans Homecoming

Celebration To Be Held November 15; Other Cass News

Virginia, Nov. 9.—The first annual Virginia High School Homecoming will be observed on Friday, Nov. 15, the celebration being planned by the senior class and their advisor, Prof. M. M. Cruft.

It is hoped by the sponsors that the homecoming may become an annual event. The festivities of the day will begin with a parade of the student body to the business district, headed by the V. H. S. band, resplendent in their new uniforms.

The big event of the day will be at 3 p. m., when the Virginia Red Heads will meet the Beardstown Tigers on the local field. This is the final game of the season, and is of much interest to all foot-ball fans.

As a climax to the day of activities, the seniors will sponsor a Homecoming dance at the Finn hall beginning at 9 p. m. The Bley-Robinson Colonial Club Orchestra, a nine piece band of Beardstown, will furnish the music.

News Notes

Coach Auwarter and his Red Heads have planned a game for Armistice Day, when they will meet the Jacksonville High School team on the local gridiron.

The W. C. T. U. met Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. E. M. Dale.

The Wednesday afternoon bridge club was entertained this week at the home of Mrs. Chase Savage in Springfield. High score favor was awarded to Miss Iva Lancaster.

The D. Q. bridge club was entertained at a one o'clock luncheon Thursday by Mrs. A. E. Crum, assisted by Mrs. L. H. Skiles. High score favors were awarded to Mrs. Florence Hall, of South Gate, Cal., and Miss Isabel Snyder, Mrs. Hall and Mrs. Anna Petefish of Jacksonville were guests, both former members.

Mrs. W. H. McCreedy of Ashland is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Geo. White.

Mrs. D. H. Keifer of Chicago, spent this week with her mother, Mrs. Marie Dawson.

The Virginia Woman's club will have the November meeting next Thursday at 8 p. m. at the Presbyterian church, at which time H. G. Moore, world traveler and lecturer from Peoria, will give a Travel Picture Talk, using as his subject "Amazing Africa".

The meeting will be an open one, and the club members are privileged to bring guests.

Mesdames A. E. Crum, J. E. Edwards, Edgar Thompson, F. E. Virgin, G. H. Widmayer, G. H. Husted and L. H. Skiles were guests of Mrs. S. E. Gill in Ashland Thursday at a one o'clock luncheon.

E. R. Sooy, of Murrayville, was a business visitor in the city Saturday.

Census Office to Be Located Here

Jacksonville Selected for District Headquarters of Business Count

District headquarters for the nation-wide business census which will begin on Jan. 1 will be established in Jacksonville, according to word received by State Representative Warren Brockhouse from Washington. Enumerators for all of the ten counties of the Twentieth district will be supervised from the local offices.

Appointment of a supervisor for this district is expected soon, and it is understood a Jacksonville man will be named. Each county will have several enumerators, the most of these being taken from the relief rolls.

An appropriation for the business census was secured by the Census Bureau from the WPA, and will be carried on as a WPA project throughout the country. Statistics gathered by the census-takers will be sent to Washington for tabulation.

MARKETS CLOSED MONDAY

New York, Nov. 9.—(AP)—All American financial and commodity markets will be closed November 11, Armistice Day, with the exception of some livestock markets.

Stock Trading Fairly Active

By Frank MacMillen
Associated Press Financial Writer

New York, Nov. 9.—(AP)—Profit-taking in the Utilities, after their sharp bulge in the previous session failed to shake the balance of the stock market list today.

The general run of Rails and Industrials showed mild improvement on balance after irregular early dealings, while most of the Power and Light shares dipped less than a point.

Trading was fairly active for the short session, aided by evening up of accounts for the holiday on Monday. Turnover in the stock exchanged totalled 1,156,554 shares.

The Associated Press average was unchanged at 54.0. A dip of .3 of a point in the 15 Utilities was offset by a gain of .4 of a point in the 15 Rails and an upward slant of .1 of a point in the 30 Industrials.

Week-end news from trade and industry continued predominantly encouraging. At the top of the column came the report of U. S. Steel on shipments of finished steel products, up 71,808 tons in October compared with September. Last month the total was 686,741 tons, compared with only 343,962 tons in October, 1934.

Western Unions, a recent favorite with traders, revealed earnings of $3.26 in the first nine months of the year, compared with $1.70 in the like 1934 period.

The past week, a busy period for dividend declarations, gave even more impressive testimony of improving profits when results, totalled up in the weekly survey of Standard Statistics Co., showed 44 favorable dividend changes, compared with 19 in the previous week.

Hog Market Is Steady, Higher

Chicago, Nov. 9. — (AP) — A slight curtailment in livestock receipts today coupled with more favorable reports from the dressed meat trade with more seasonal weather failed to make much of an impression on the livestock market as a whole.

Except for strictly choice steers and yearlings and best fat lambs the general tone of the market was weak. Hogs staged a late rally to close at virtually the same level prevailing a week ago. The sharply higher fresh pork market gave the hog trade some stimulus.

Little was done today. Of the 3,000 hogs shipped in, only 500 were for the open market. Prices were steady to a shade higher, a few loads of choice mediumweights selling at $9.40 with the quotable top at $9.45. Estimated holdover was 500. Good to choice 150 to 180 lbs. lights sold at $9.20 to $9.30 and sows went for $9.10 to $9.40. Cattle receipts were 500, calves 200 and sheep 3,000.

Hogs showed little net change for the week. The average price yesterday was $9.03, only a cent per hundredweight below that a week earlier, while the tops were the same.

Choice and prime heavy steers gained around 25 cents during the week while comparable yearlings were steady. All other grades, however, were unevenly 25 to 50 cents lower. The extreme top for weighty steers was $13.25. The run of western grass cattle was 60 per cent below last week and a break in stocker and feeder prices sent more common and medium steers into killer channels.

Fat lambs gained 25 to 50 cents during the week and aged sheep were strong to 25 cents higher. Slaughter offerings hit the highest price of the year early at $10.15 but eased later.

Grain Market Lacks Support

By John P. Boughan
Associated Press Market Editor

Chicago, Nov. 9.—(AP)—Faced by two holidays and two government crop reports impending, many wheat traders took to side-lines today, and prices declined for lack of support.

A black eye at the outset was given to wheat values through failure of the Liverpool market to respond to yesterday's price advances this side of the Atlantic. Bearish sentiment was increased later because of word of enlarged offerings of Argentine wheat to Europe and of cheap offers of new Australian wheat, whereas Winnipeg messages told of only meager takings of Canadian wheat for shipment overseas.

Wheat in Chicago closed weak, ⅜-½ under yesterday's finish. Dec. 96-96⅛, corn unchanged to ⅜ lower, Dec. 58⅞-59, oats unchanged to ¼ higher, and provisions varying from 2 cents decline to an equal advance.

Except Liverpool and Rotterdam, all the leading world's commodity markets will be closed Monday, Armistice Day. The United States government crop report on corn production is scheduled to appear Monday afternoon, and the Canadian government crop report will be issued Wednesday. Under such circumstances, traders' hesitancy to enter upon new ventures in the grain markets today had excellent reason, aside from uncertainty over a final decision expected soon on legal soundness of the wheat processing tax and also aside from absence of definite knowledge about Canada's future wheat marketing policy.

REP. GREEN TO GIVE 2 ADDRESSES MONDAY

State Representative Hugh Green of this city will deliver Armistice Day addresses in two cities Monday. On the morning of Armistice Day at ten o'clock he will speak under auspices of the American Legion at Alton. The ceremonies will be held at the foot of the Soldiers and Sailors monument.

At two o'clock in the afternoon Mr. Green will speak in the court house at Jerseyville to a combined audience from Jerseyville and Carrollton.

CLOSING OUT SALE

2½ mi. N. W. of city, 10:30 a. m. Nov. 14, 17 milk cows; 5 young heifers; team good fillies; team young horses; team good mules; implements, hay, grain. Lunch served by Ebenezer church.

Beardstown Band Will Give Concert

First Program Announced for Nov. 14 at School; 160 in H.S. Band

Beardstown—The first band concert of Beardstown high school will be given at 8 p. m. at the High school auditorium Thursday evening, Nov. 14.

This is the first concert of the year under the direction of the new band master, Mr. Swift.

The band has an enrollment of 160 and has been working systematically on the concert numbers.

The band usually prepares four concerts for the year, a harvest festival of music, a Christmas program and two other late winter and spring concerts.

Church Class Party

A class party for the Golden Rule class of the Congregational church was held at the home of the teacher, Charles Angier, assisted by his wife, Mrs. Angier.

Miss Genevieve Thomas entertained her club Thursday night at her home, 400 Washington street, at a bridge party.

Two tables were in play with prizes being awarded to Mrs. Virgil Jacobs and Mrs. Elmer Schuman.

At this time the club was reorganized for the coming year. Mrs. Samuel Bockemeier will be the hostess in two weeks.

Light dessert completed the enjoyable evening.

News Notes

The Golden Feather

by Robert Bruce © 1935 NEA Service, Inc.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

JEAN DUNN, secretary to DONALD MONTAGUE, lawyer, delays her answer when BOBBY WALLACE, automobile salesman, asks her to marry him.

The Golden Feather night club she meets SANDY HARKINS whose business connection is vague. Sandy introduces Bobby and Jean to a MR. and MRS. LEWIS. Bobby sells some bonds for Lewis, who buys a car.

LARRY GLENN, federal agent, is trailing WINGY LEWIS, bank robber. He learns about the bond transaction and questions Bobby. Larry believes the car Lewis bought is armored. Bobby undertakes to find out.

Jean agrees to a secret engagement with Sandy. The bank of which her father is president is robbed and Larry starts a search for the robbers.

Jean goes to see Sandy who has been injured. He and the Lewises are staying at a farmhouse.

Larry learns Sandy was one of the bank robbers. DOC JECKERS, who treated one of the robbers, says they are the Jackson gang. A telephone number, written on the wall, leads the federal men to a distant farm.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XXXIV

JEAN DUNN sat in an old-fashioned rocking chair on the porch of the little farmhouse and looked out at the fields that shimmered in the summer heat. She had been at the farmhouse just a little less than 24 hours, now, and every hour seemed to increase the queer feeling of dissatisfaction and uneasiness that possessed her.

To begin with, she told herself, she ought to be getting back to Dover. She had delivered the envelope which Mr. Montague had asked her to deliver; that part of the job was finished. In addition, she had found Sandy, satisfied herself that his accident would not have any serious consequences, and thus eased her mind on that score. She could not, then, stay on here indefinitely. She had done all that she set out to do; it was time for her to be leaving.

Yet when she had mentioned this to Sandy, half an hour before, he had been rather unsympathetic about it. Indeed, his lack of sympathy seemed to arise from a wholly new attitude toward her, an attitude which she did not at all like.

"What do you want to go back to that dump for?" he asked her petulantly, as she sat by his bed and explained her desire to return to Dover.

"I've just got to go back, whether you understand it or not," she said. "Can't somebody drive me—oh, part way, anyway? To Plainfield, where I can catch a train?"

"Don't know if any of the cars are available," said Sandy.

"Then I'll have to take the train from Midlothian."

He grinned mockingly.

"There's only one train a day, in the direction you want, and it's gone already."

"But Sandy! Won't you help me? I don't like this."

He seemed to become penitent. "Don't worry—I'll fix it," he said. "I'll speak to Red about it. Just forget about it. I'll fix things."

On that assurance she had left his bedroom; and now, sitting alone on the porch and reviewing the conversation, she was forced to admit that she did not like the tone of it in the least. Sandy didn't seem like the sympathetic and understanding sweetheart he had been in Dover, and in Maplehurst; something hard and unpleasant was showing through from underneath. . . . Then her innate loyalty came to his defense.

"I'm just—silly," she told herself. "I've been tired and excited, and I see things wrong. And he's sick, poor boy, and not himself. I mustn't judge him so hastily."

Eve Lewis came out and perched on the porch railing. She lit a cigaret, tossed the match on the lawn, and looked down at Jean with a wry smile.

"This place is a hole, isn't it?" she said.

Jean looked up, smiled, and nodded.

"Well, we won't be here long," said Eve. "That's one comfort. The next place'll be better."

"Oh? Where are we—where are they going?"

Eve noticed how Jean corrected herself, and gave her a curious look. "What do you mean—'they'?" she asked. "You're coming too, aren't you?"

"Oh, forget it. Trail along with us. I admit this place is a dump, but it's only for another day or so. Red's got another place spotted, and it'll be a spot where we can really enjoy life a little."

She yawned and stretched lazily. "This place does give me the willies," she added.

"But I can't go," said Jean. "You can understand, Eve, can't you? I've got a job to get back to."

"Oh, a job—" said Eve, gesturing with royal disdain.

"Well, I have. And anyway, it's different with me than it is with you. You're with your husband, I'm not—Sandy and I—"

Eve smiled a worldly-wise smile. "Why let that bother you?" she asked.

Jean flushed, and her shoulders stiffened.

"It's too bad, I suppose, but it does bother me," she said coldly.

* * *

EVE looked at her in mild surprise, then tossed her cigaret butt out onto the lawn. She watched it smoldering there for a moment, then she shrugged and stood up.

"It's too hot to have a row," she said. She started to walk to the door, then paused and looked down at Jean. "You really mean you're going back?"

"Why, of course."

"Well, talk to Red about it then."

She started away but Jean caught her hand.

"Wait," she begged. "Eve—there's so much here I don't understand. Who is this man Red, anyway? Why does everybody wait for him to decide everything. You, Sandy, everybody—it's always, 'I'll ask Red,' or something. Who is he?"

Eve looked down with a strange, indefinable expression on her face. Then she withdrew her hand, forced a laugh, and said, "Why don't you ask Sandy?" and went on in the house.

This was hardly the sort of incident that would calm Jean's rising dissatisfaction. She hesitated, uncertain, staring out at the open fields; then she got up and went to the little bedroom she had occupied the night before, and proceeded to pack her overnight bag. Having finished, she cast a last glance about the room, stopped before the mirror to powder her face and pat her hair into shape, and then carried the bag downstairs. She deposited it in the front hallway and then went into the living room, looking for this strange, subtly menacing person they called Red.

To her surprise she found Sandy there, at ease in a big mission chair. He was dressed in gray flannel trousers, tennis shoes, and a white shirt, open at the throat. His bandaged shoulder was visible where the shirt stood open.

"Well," he said, "where you off to?"

"I wanted to find this man you call Red and see if someone won't drive me to Plainfield," she said.

"I talked to Red about it," said Sandy. "I'm afraid you're out of luck, for just now. You see, we've only got two cars here, and they're both tied up for the rest of the day. But listen"—he hurried on as she started to protest—"first thing tomorrow it'll be different. Red promised—and if you don't want to take his word, I'll give you my promise. Okay?"

She hesitated. She wanted to leave now—today—and yet . . .

"Oh, what's one more night?" asked Sandy, laughing. "Nobody'll bite you. There's two married women here to chaperon you—Eve Lewis and Mrs. Engle, the farmer's wife. And I'm crippled, anyhow." His eyes danced with mocking humor. She found herself smiling in tune with him.

"You're sure—about tomorrow morning?"

"Of course. Come on—it's okay, isn't it?"

She gave a little laugh, with just a faint note of irritation in it. "I guess it'll have to be," she said.

Time seemed to drag, in this farmhouse. Sandy was still weak, unable to walk with her outdoors. Lewis was absent in one of the cars, and the strange "Red" was aloof and unapproachable. Jean took a stroll across the fields with Eve, sat in the dusky, old-fashioned living room with Sandy, lounged aimlessly on the porch—and somehow got through the day and the evening, conscious always of a queer feeling of unease, almost of guilt, at her continued presence here. But the day did end, eventually, and the night of broken and unquiet sleep ended also; and at last it was the next morning, and she ate her breakfast at the gingham-checked table in the kitchen.

She went out to the porch to wait for the car. And after a few minutes the red-headed man came out and surveyed her dourly.

"All ready, are you?" he asked. "Got your things packed, and all?"

She nodded.

"Come on, then," he said. She took her bag—which he permitted her to carry for herself—and followed him through the back yard, where the big blue sedan was parked. Two men were in the front seat, and Eve Lewis sat in the back.

"Get in," said Red.

She hesitated. Why were so many people in the car?

"Come on, we're in a hurry," said Red. "We're all going for a little ride. Sandy and Wingy've gone on ahead in the other car. Step on it, baby."

"But—but where are we going?" she stammered uneasily.

"Never mind where," he said, bending his face close. "Get in, sit down, shut up and do as you're told."

And as she looked into his cold blue eyes she knew she had to obey.

Citizenship Is Subject At Club Meet Held Here

Mrs. Dargan Urges Constructive Program Of Americanism

With a strong appeal to club women for a constructive program of Americanism, capable of maintaining the ideals of the framers of the Constitution of the United States, Mrs. C. M. Dargan, of Pontiac, state chairman of American Citizenship, addressed the Jacksonville Woman's club Saturday afternoon at the D. A. R. chapter house. Speaking on the theme, "A Living Citizenship, Instead of a Talking Citizenship," she held the appreciative attention of the members and their guests.

The meeting, observing the spirit of Armistice Day, was opened by the president Mrs. M. S. Zachary. Mrs. Paul Black led in the salute to the flag and Mrs. J. Marshall Miller led in the prayer service. As chairman of the day Mrs. Herbert J. Capps introduced Mrs. Dargan as one especially qualified, through her service as past president of the Legion Auxiliary and her work in other departments of the Federated clubs.

Preceding the address Miss Charlotte Sieber, music chairman, presented Mrs. Lois Harney Hardin, who gave a group of songs, which was a beautiful part of the program. The selections were: "The Singer," Maxwell; "Estrella," Ponce; "Italian Street Song," (From Naughty Marietta), Victor Herbert. Mrs. Ralph Hutchinson accompanied Mrs. Hardin on the piano.

Mrs. Dargan emphasized the point that American Citizenship is moving in a new direction and the fact that there would be no place to move if our forefathers had not saved it for us.

"Do we pause to consider all that lies behind our citizenship? Our forefathers builded well on the rocks, when they gave us our constitution. It may need some chiseling, but I often wonder when I listen to a radical, how much of the real past does he know? Beware of calloused ideals, laws, duties and traditions, for these must be a part of American citizenship.

"A trip to Province Town, to the State house, where we can recall the signing of the Stamp Act and other historic spots, I am certain assures us that men and women did give us a foundation which will stand all the evils of prejudice and ignorance.

"Our earnest prayer should be that indifference and lack of intelligence will not hinder our work. With deep understanding of the past let us put ourselves toward American citizenship and this will put our nation right. It is an age of mass ideals but we may still choose our own thoughts."

Mrs. Dargan stressed the great necessity of maintaining the principles of the preamble of the Constitution—union, justice, domestic tranquility, defense, common welfare, and the blessings of liberty, as fixed ideals of our democracy, that represent sacrifice and consecration of the past, which must not be allowed to give way to insidious programs.

In closing the speaker said, "Let us work toward this end in the present, that in the future our efforts may be seen as guaranteeing liberty, freedom and Christian American citizenship."

During the business meeting, Mrs. Merrill Barlow and Mrs. John Merrigan announced that two benefits would be given for the redecoration of the rest room at the court house and for assisting with plans for the CCC program.

At the close of the program a delightful social hour was enjoyed in the dining room, with Mrs. O. F. Conklin as chairman of hostesses. Chrysanthemums were used throughout the rooms and a center bouquet on the table, where Mrs. W. L. Robertson and Mrs. E. L. Hill presided. Others assisting were Mrs. John Strang, Mrs. Ella Hembrough, Miss Beatrice Robertson.

Previous to the meeting Mrs. Dargan was a guest of the executive board at a one o'clock luncheon held at the Colonial Inn. Those attending the luncheon were Mrs. Dargan, Mrs. Miller Weir, Mrs. J. Marshall Miller, Mrs. John R. Robertson, Mrs. Herbert J. Capps, Mrs. M. S. Zachary, Miss Ellie Trabue, Mrs. Ella Hembrough, Mrs. Eloise Pitner, Mrs. Ben Negus, Mrs. Fletcher Blackburn, Mrs. Merrill Barlow, Mrs. John Merrigan, Mrs. E. D. Herald, Mrs. G. B. Andre, Mrs. Helen Schimmel, Mrs. Paul Black.

WARDS PLAN BIKE PARADE SATURDAY

Make way for the bike parade!

Make way for the greatest spectacle of its kind ever produced since the beginning of bicycling, for its coming to Jacksonville as well as 495 other towns and cities in the United States on Saturday, Nov. 16th., at 2:30 p. m.

This will be staged by Montgomery Ward simultaneously in every city in which the company has a retail store as a spectacular climax to Wards bike sale, it was announced here today by company officials.

There will be prizes for the best decorated floats. Judges, selected from among the citizens of Jacksonville will decide the three best floats in the local parade and Wards will award them prizes. The winners will be elected on the basic of originality and beauty. The decorations need not be elaborate.

All persons who wish to enter the parade and compete for the prizes must first register at the Jacksonville Ward store during the week of Nov. 11th. There will be no entry fee.

MURDERED BOY NOT MORGAN COUNTY LAD

Word was received here yesterday from Mrs. Hal Sharpe that the boy found dead at Whiting, Indiana, is not her brother. When relatives of Edward Flynn, Jr., son of Edward Flynn, of near here, read of the discovery of a murdered boy at Whiting it was feared the lad might by Edward Flynn, Jr., who has been missing from his home for several weeks. Mrs. Sharpe made a trip to Whiting in an effort to identify the body, but after viewing the body saw it was not her brother.

Third School In Greene Is Closed Because Of Fever

Carrollton O. E. S. Lodge Elects Officers; News Notes

Carrollton, Ill., Nov. 9.—Reports reaching this city are that a third school in the county has been closed on account of scarlet fever among the pupils. It is the Burroughs school near Greenfield, as previously published the Hay Press and Union schools were closed last week. Scarlet fever and diphtheria are prevalent over widely scattered sections of the county. Five new cases of diphtheria were reported in White Hall Tuesday. One of the diphtheria patients is a high school student, Robert Marshall, center of the football eleven.

Scarlet fever cases are also on the increase at White Hall, Maurice Jouett, a member of the city council there, is a victim of scarlet fever. George Stewart, a White Hall youth is suffering a double affliction in having diphtheria and scarlet fever both. The health department and all the local doctors are watching very closely for any signs of either of the dread diseases, and thus far no case of either, has developed here.

News Notes

The Carrollton Lodge of the Order of the Eastern Star held the regular meeting at the Masonic Hall. An election of officers for the coming year had the following results: Worthy Matron—Hazel Frech; Worthy Patron—S. E. Pierson; Associate Matron—Marion Roberts; Associate Patron—William Cross; Secretary—Lena Lindsey; Treasurer—Margaret Eldred; Conductress—Gertie Mungall; associate Conductress—Anna Morlow. Supreme Justice Norman L. Jones, John J. Eldred, Charles Meeks, Carrollton Township Highway Commissioner Micheal Vaughn, Francis Vaughan and about fifty persons living along the Bluff road in the western part of Greene and adjacent counties, motored to Springfield Tuesday to lay a petition before Governor Horner, asking the construction of an all-weather road from Grafton north at the foot of the Bluffs to Florence. The governor expressed doubts that the road would be allowed on account of the road on the west side of the Illinois River paralleling this road. The road on the west side is a hard road and was completed recently. The main issue on which the people on the Greene County side of the river are asking an improved road is that there is a vast area along the Bluffs that for almost one half of the year have no to-market road.

Miss Catherine Markham was taken to St. John's hospital, St. Louis, in the ambulance of B. W. Mehl and son, Thursday, for treatment for injuries received last week, when a folding bed fell on her.

Dean Guthrie played his guitar and sang a group of songs and Floyd Ford gave a recitation and the rest of the evening was spent playing games which had been prepared by the committee composed of Mr. and Mrs. William Ford, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Strang, and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Strang. Fred Strang is president of the club and presided at the short business session. Election of officers will be held at the December meeting.

The Merry Mix Up club held the November meeting Thursday all day with Mrs. A. R. McConathy, with Mrs. Pearl LaFollette assisting. It was a record breaking meeting in that all the twenty members were present. There were also five guests, Mrs. A. A. Thompson, Mrs. A. B. Lewis, Mrs. W. O. Tankersley, Mrs. A. B. Mansfield, and Mrs. F. A. Davis.

Election of officers was held and Mrs. Arnold Ross was chosen president. Mrs. John Farnbaugh is vice president; Mrs. Ansil Brannan was again chosen secretary and treasurer, which office she has held ever since the club was organized several years ago. Mrs. A. R. McConathy was made reporter. It was decided to have only one hostess each time hereafter, and the members drew for places when they should entertain. The next meeting will be a Christmas party at the home of Mrs. Neil Walker.

Set Final Date For Applying For Wheat Contract In Greene

Expect Approximately Same Number Of Signers This Year

Carrollton, Ill., Nov 9.—November 15 has been designated as the last day for completing applications for the new wheat contracts, Greene county farmers have shown considerable interest in the new wheat contracts, and the allotment committee believes that the sign-up when completed will be about as large as last year. Most of the old contract holders who have not made applications, have indicated their intention to do so. The wheat section of the AAA is requiring the local association to obtain the record of wheat grown on all wheat farms not covered by wheat contracts. The purpose of this is largely to check on the accuracy of the data contained in the wheat contracts. Local committeemen and farm supervisors are now calling on farmers for this data. Applications for contracts may be made at the county office at any time until the closing date. The sum of $32,830. in payments due under the old contracts has been distributed recently, and the balance of the payments due is expected in the near future.
